

REGISTRATION
TO END TONIGHT
UNTIL ELECTION

Four hundred and fifty Adams countians have registered so far at special registrations held during the past two weeks.

Today marks the last day on which a countian can register for the November 7 election. After the close of registrations tonight the books will remain closed until after the election in November.

Special registration hours today are from 1 to 4 o'clock this afternoon and from 7 to 9 o'clock this evening for those who wish to register at the commissioners' office in the court house. The commissioners also comprise the Adams county election board.

Totals Announced
Friday evening at McSherrystown, 18 Republicans, 15 Democrats and one non-partisan voter were recorded by the special registrars sitting at the engine house there. At Fairfield on Thursday, the registrars enrolled 24 Republicans, 20 Democrats and six non-partisan voters.

The total number of Republicans who listed their names and addresses with the special traveling registrar was 267, the number of Democrats 138 and non-partisans, 12.

At Gettysburg Friday night, during a special registration, only seven, all Republicans, were recorded. During the entire day Friday, at the court house here, 36 Republicans and 7 Democrats were registered. It was expected that a large number of countians will be registered at the court house today.

Previous Figures
The special registration by the traveling registrars included: At Bonneauville, eight Republicans, seven Democrats; York Springs, 54 Republicans, 21 Democrats; Cashtown, 29 Republicans, four Democrats; East Berlin, 21 Republicans, 28 Democrats; Littlestown, 25 Republicans, nine Democrats, three non-partisans; Bendersville, 45 Republicans, eight Democrats, one non-partisan; New Oxford, 11 Republicans, 18 Democrats; Biglerville, 32 Republicans, seven Democrats, one non-partisan; Fairfield, 24 Republicans, 20 Democrats, six non-partisan; McSherrystown, 18 Republicans, 15 Democrats, one non-partisan.

MISS SEIBERT,
R. L. ALTEMOSE
TO WED TODAY

Miss Betty Louise Seibert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Seibert, Cashtown, and Richard L. Altemose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Altemose, Littlestown R. 2, will be united in marriage this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Flob's Lutheran church. The double ring ceremony will be conducted by the Rev. Robert C. Schiebel, pastor.

The church will be decorated with white gladioli in the altar vases, ferns and rhododendron.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Seibert, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor. George Fair, Gettysburg, will be the best man. The ushers will be Robert Shealer, Gettysburg, and Leslie Fair, Jr., Gettysburg, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Going On Wedding Trip
The bride will wear a white shark-skin suit with brown accessories. Her colonial bouquet will be of white gladioli and blue delphiniums. The maid of honor will wear a two-piece pink dress and her flowers will be white and pink gladioli. She will also wear a floral headdress.

Mrs. D. F. Slegal, of near Cashtown, will play the traditional organ wedding music. Mrs. Robert Shealer, Gettysburg, will sing "Because" and "Through the Years" prior to the ceremony and during the ceremony will sing "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride graduated from Gettysburg high school in June. Mr. Altemose graduated from Gettysburg high school in 1945. He served in the army during World War II for one and one-half years. He also attended Gettysburg college. At present he is an accountant for the Glenn L. Bream garage.

Following the ceremony a reception for approximately 100 guests will be held at the bride's home after which the couple will leave on a wedding trip of unannounced destination. They will reside in the near future at 24 Baltimore street.

LAUGHMAN WILL FILED

The will of Milton Laughman, late of Hanover R. 4, has been entered for probate at the office of the county register and recorder. Hester Laughman, Hanover R. 4, is executor of the $10,000 estate.

CHURCH FILM IS PRAISED BY
PREVIEW GROUP

"For Good or Evil," the United Lutheran Church-Cathedral Films motion picture filmed in Arendtsville, was described as excellent Friday afternoon by members of the press and radio who were invited to a special preview showing here.

The picture will be shown, for Adams countians generally on Thursday at the Memorial auditorium in the South Mountain Fair grounds. Two showings will be given at that time, the first at 7:45 and the second at 9:15 o'clock.

Those who had the opportunity to see the show Friday said that the residents of Arendtsville who are depicted in many of the scenes handled themselves like veteran movie actors. The professional actors who portray the principal parts are outstanding, the preview audience held.

Not only does the picture carry a good moral — that money should be used for the glory of God — but it is presented so entertainingly that the film rivals commercial motion pictures made for entertainment in suspense and interest, the reviewers noted.

Michale Whalen as "the pastor" in the picture; George O'Donnell as "Dr. Spencer" and Guy Wallace as "Norm Harper" were very satisfactory in the leads among the professional actors in the production.

Among the countians who give more than a good account of themselves are Dr. Fred Lewis, Clarence Oyler, Walter Frederick, Charles Bushey, Arnold Orner, J. Blaine Bushey and Ernest D. Bushman, all of Arendtsville, in a scene showing a meeting of the church council; Miss Louise McDannell, as the secretary of "Dr. Spencer"; Mrs. Anna Allison as Dr. Spencer's housekeeper; David Houck, Mrs. Olive Bushey and Elaine Taylor as employees of the bank, the members of the Trinity Lutheran choir as "students" at a graduation scene, the Rev. Robert C. Schiebel in a baptism scene, and Kathy Carol Barbour, six-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barbour, the "baby" at the baptism scene.

Local reviewers found the statement by Henry Endress, stewardship secretary of the ULCA, that "you should see the picture twice, once to see the film and once to pick out your neighbors in the film" was more than true.

Possibly 100 countians can be seen in the picture that was shot at Arendtsville, Gettysburg and the area around those two communities. The first viewing of the picture finds the spectator so absorbed in the story being told that it is difficult to pick out the countians in the show, those attending said.

The 1924 Oakland of Peter Flickinger "stars" in one scene, and the home of S. A. Skinner and Elias Hoffman are among those shown in one scene where the pastor visits his parishioners.

The Arendtsville bank is to be seen along with most of the remainder of Arendtsville as background in the film.

BANKERS TO MEET

The Adams County Bankers association will meet Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at Baschore's restaurant, Littlestown. H. Vernon Forster, Hanover, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker.

LIONS TO MEET

The Gettysburg Lions will hold their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church. It will be "Honor Our President" night and local athletic coaches will be guests.

WOMEN'S CIVIC
COUNCIL MEETS
FRIDAY EVENING

The Women's Civic Council held its first meeting of the fall season Friday evening at the YWCA building, with 10 members in attendance. Mrs. G. E. Buehler, president, was in charge. The name of Mrs. Granville Schultz was added to the roll, as representative of the Woman's club, replacing Mrs. E. W. Thomas.

Following reports of the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Buehler said that the council had been invited to appoint representatives to the Pennsylvania Day committee and named Mrs. Grover Ridler and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh to this committee. Mrs. Ridler reported on the recent meeting of the Pennsylvania Day committee.

Mrs. W. A. Hennig, representative of the Sororistomist club, announced the selection of Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars as one of the "Distinguished Daughters" of Pennsylvania.

Motions were unanimously carried commending the borough council and "particularly Fred Hummelbaugh for the work done in connection with the mosquito eradication program in Gettysburg," also commending the Exchange club for its action with respect to the Christmas lights, and Eugene Sicksles for his "work in the past with the Board of Health." Previous to the council meeting, the executive board, consisting of Mrs. Buehler, Mrs. Fortenbaugh, Mrs. Lester Johnson, Mrs. Ridler and Mrs. W. A. Corbett, held a short meeting in connection with the program for the coming year.

The next meeting of the council will be held October 20.

VETS' OUTFIT
PLANS REUNION

The third annual reunion of former members of the 3940th Quartermaster Gas Supply outfit that served in France, Germany, Austria and Belgium during World War II will be held Saturday evening, September 23, at the Lee-Meade inn. Fred Slaybaugh of Biglerville is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The supply company was composed mostly of Pennsylvania men, including a number from Gettysburg, Biglerville, Bendersville, Littlestown and Fairfield. Others were from Hanover, with some from Reading, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Between 60 and 70 veterans of the organization are expected for the reunion. With wives and friends, the total number at the banquet and entertainment program to follow will probably exceed 120. Mr. Slaybaugh said. The banquet is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

The 3940th trained in this country, 10 months in Ireland and two weeks in England before going into actual combat service. The first reunion was held two years ago in Philadelphia and the second last year in Reading.

Emmitsburg

VOTING TAKES PLACE MONDAY

Emmitsburg voters will go to the polls Monday and vote for the candidates of their choice. Monday is the Primary election. The general election date is November 7. The polls will open at 8 a.m., and close at 8 p.m. (DST). Voting places for the district will be: Precincts No. 1, fire hall; No. 2, Senator Storm's office, East Main street, and No. 3, St. Anthony's school house.

The squirrel season for Maryland opened Friday. It will close September 30. The limit is six in one day, with no season limit.

The Emmitsburg Hanover Shoe baseball team won over Harney last Sunday in the first of the playoff for championship in the league. They won 8 to 7 with Joy and Davis pitching and McGlaughlin catching. Wastler, T. Saylor and Sanders each scored two and D. Saylor and McGlaughlin each one of the eight runs to win the contest.

A third effort will be made Sunday to get over the hurdle of the first game of the Pen-Mar baseball playoffs. Two tries the past two Sundays were failures due to rain. The rules call for a full nine inning for championship playoff game. During the playing season, after a game has gone 4½ innings and is called due to rain the team having the most runs is winner.

The Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce will meet next Tuesday evening in the fire hall.

Fire Chief John J. Hollinger has announced that the fire siren test this Monday will be a complete test of the full amount of cycles and not the usual short blast.

Miss Patricia A. Cole Is Bride
Of Robert E. O'Brien, Jr.

Miss Patricia Ann Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Martin Cole, 51 East Stevens street, became the bride of Robert Emmet O'Brien, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. O'Brien, Ridgefield Park, N. J., this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Francis Xavier Catholic church. The Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane officiated at the nuptial mass and double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with gladioli and fern. The church pews were decorated with white satin bows and lighted tapers. A white carpet was placed in the aisle.

Mrs. George F. Eberhart played selections of wedding music, including the processional and recessional marches of Carlo Rossini. During the mass Mrs. Paul L. Roy, aunt of the bride, sang "Ave Maria" by Carlo Rossini; "Panis Angelicus" by Lambillotte, and "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy," at the Communion.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with an off-the-shoulder effect, bertha collar, net yoke, and sleeves ending in points over the hands. The pannier pleated skirt ended in a sweeping cathedral train. Her veil was of heirloom lace. She carried a white prayer book from which fell white satin ribbons with staphanotis and topped with a white orchid.

Miss Janice Cole, Detroit, Mich., cousin of the bride, who served as maid of honor, wore a gown of ice blue satin with high neckline, full skirt, and matching gauntlets and headress. She carried a cascade bouquet of mixed fall flowers.

Sebastian Nataie of Harrisburg was best man. The ushers were Robert Cole, Gettysburg, brother of the bride, and Julian Collesano, Ridgefield Park, N. J.

Thomas, Kenneth, William and Edwin Cole, brothers of the bride served the mass.

Reception Held

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe dress, black accessories, and a corsage of yellow pompon chrysanthemums. The groom's mother wore a taupe dress with brown accessories and a salmon glauxemella corsage.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at Banker's restaurant.

The bride graduated from Saint Joseph's high school, Emmitsburg, in 1946, and is employed as secretary to Judge W. C. Sheely. The groom is a graduate of Ridgefield Park high school and is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Navy Air Corps. Next week he will enter his senior year at Gettysburg college where he is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Upon their return from a wedding trip they will reside at 204 South Stratton street. For her going-away costume, the bride chose a forest green suit, black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Gardners Driver In Crash At Carlisle

A Gardners R. 1 motorist faces a charge of reckless driving after the automobile he was driving crashed into another car at West and Pomfret streets, Carlisle, on Thursday night.

Police said Charles W. Stoner was driving south on West street when his car struck an auto operated by Mrs. Donald E. Page, of Carlisle Barracks. Mrs. Page had stopped at a stop sign and then moved into the intersection after a car had passed. Stoner's vehicle struck the right side of Mrs. Page's car and sent it into a metal post at the curb.

Mrs. Page suffered a shoulder injury and a laceration of the head. Police estimated the damage to her car at $600 and $200 to Stoner's car.

FRACTURES ARM

Mrs. Richard Hankey, 52, Gettysburg R. 1, fell down the cellar steps at her home Wednesday, suffering a fracture of the right arm and bruises to her right leg and right side. She was treated at the Warner hospital.

KILLED IN CRASH

Pauli, Pa., Sept. 15 (AP)—A ride home from a football game in Coatesville ended in the death of a Germantown high school student and serious injuries to four others tonight in the collision of a car and a truck. William Sandrow, 15, Philadelphia, was the victim of the crash.

Bair-Lott Wedding To Take Place In Seminary Chapel

Miss Elizabeth Ann Lott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jamison Lott, Gardners, will become the bride of John Orley Bair, of Findlay, Ohio, and Swarthmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Bair, Sr. of Swarthmore, at 2 p.m. today in the Church of the Abiding Presence. The Rev. Wallace E. Fisher, College Lutheran pastor, will perform the double ring ceremony.

Ross Sachs, soloist, accompanied by Miss Barbara Klinefelter, Bendersville, organist, will sing "Because" by D'Hardelot, "Ich Lebe Dich" by Grieg, "O Perfect Love" and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. Miss Klinefelter will present an organ recital preceding the ceremony.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be attired in an ivory tone off-the-shoulder satin gown, applied in peach, with an illusion neckline, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves buttoning at wrist, and full skirt, falling from side and back in pressed pleats which fall into a train. Her three-tiered fingertip veil of imported ivory French illusion will fall from an ivory satin cloche. She will carry a bouquet centered with a white orchid and surrounded by fleur d'amour and ivy.

District Scouters
Will Meet Monday

A Black Walnut Boy Scout District meeting will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the office of District Chairman Edward B. Bullett in the First National bank building, it was announced today.

All district personnel, institutional representatives and committee chairmen in the district are scheduled to attend the session. At the meeting the scout leaders will review the summer activities, receive reports from the various scout troops of the district, outline the remainder of the 1950 scouting program and discuss the recruiting of new scouts and other personnel.

EGG PRICES UP
THIS MORNING
AT LOCAL MART

Biggest shift on the Farmers' market this morning was in the price of eggs. Large whites brought as high as 68 cents a dozen at some stands. At some others they were from 63 to 65 cents a dozen. Where large whites sold for 68 cents, large browns were 65 cents a dozen, medium whites 63 and medium browns 60.

Tomatoes and peaches remained in good supply, but sweet corn was less plentiful than a week ago. Tomatoes were 15 and 20 cents a quart box. Roasting ears on the market this morning continued at 40 cents a dozen. Peaches, including Hales, Elbertas, Belle of Georgia, Chompions and Brackets brought 20 cents a quart basket, and $1 and $1.25 a half bushel.

Potatoes were 20 cents a box and sweet potatoes 25 cents a box. Apples, mostly Summer Rambo, Wealthy and Smokehouse, were 15 cents a quart box, 20 to 25 a quarter peck and $1.25 a bushel. Blue grapes sold for 20 cents a quart. Crab apples were 15 cents a quart, and Bartlett pears 20 cents a quart.

In the vegetable line, green and yellow beans and lima beans were 15 cents a quart. Shelled limas brought 25 cents a pint. Cucumbers were priced from one cent to five cents each; pumpkins and squash, five to 15 cents each; onions, 15 cents a quart; lettuce, 10 cents a box. Whipping cream was 35 cents a pint; cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint; potato salad, 20 cents a pint; cakes, $1 each; bread, 20 cents a loaf; rolls, 20 cents a dozen; pies, 40 and 50 cents each and cookies, 25 cents a dozen.

LIST SPEAKERS
FOR GUILD MEET

Mrs. Roy Limbert, Dover, president of the Mercersburg Synodical Women's Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed church, has announced that there will be two inspirational speakers at the fifth biennial meeting of the Synodical Women's Guild, which will be held in St. John's Reformed church, Chambersburg, Thursday, October 5.

Mrs. Milton Lang, Baltimore, will speak at the morning session which begins at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lang and her husband, Dr. Milton Lang, were missionaries in the Leper hospital, India. Dr. Lang's health forced them to return to the states. The speaker is one of the women on the General Council of the Evangelical and Reformed church. She is also active in inter-denominational work in Baltimore. During this past summer she was on the staff of Camp Michaux, near Pine Grove Furnace. Her theme will be "Women in the Home, the Church and the Community."

Guest speaker for the afternoon session will be Dr. Francis Harvey Green. Dr. Green taught for many years at West Chester Normal school, and was for many years head master of the Pennington Boys' school, Pennington, N. J.

A fellowship dinner at 6 p.m. will climax the day's program. Christian students from China, Japan, Iraq, India, Honduras, Porto Rico, etc., will show in music and talks, "What Christian Missions Have Done for My Country."

Mercersburg Synod comprises Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Perry and York counties. Mrs. Limbert requests that all Guilds send the following to Mrs. W. J. LaMaster, 220 West Jackson street, York, by September 30:

Credential blanks filled out with the 50 cent registration fee for each delegate, and $1.50 for each person who will attend the fellowship dinner. Dinner tickets and delegates' tags will be sent to all for whom the necessary fees have been paid.

For Red Lifelines At Seoul$900 Damage To Big Truck In Accident

A tractor-trailer owned by Reginald W. Turner, Jr., Leesburg, Va., and driven by Earl D. Pollard, 29, also of Leesburg, tore off its front wheels and part of the undercarriage when it ran off the highway and struck a culvert on the Emmitsburg road five miles south of Gettysburg near Greenmount at 7:20 p.m. Friday. The driver escaped injury, but damage to the tractor-trailer was estimated at $900.

State police of the Gettysburg substation, who investigated the accident, said Pollard was following another tractor-trailer truck, going south. Another truck made a left turn into a side road and the first tractor-trailer stopped. Pollard applied his brakes, but was unable to stop, and pulled to the right to avoid striking the trailer in front of him.

DIRECTORS OF
ADAMS LIBRARY
MEET ON FRIDAY

Directors of the Adams County Free library held their first fall meeting at the library Friday evening when reports for the last two months of summer operation were presented and the fall and winter program was mapped.

Mrs. William Snyder, librarian, said the library's bookmobile will begin its regular schedule of trips throughout the county next Monday. Littlestown junior-senior high school has been added to the bookmobile schedule for the coming year.

The directors voted to double the present fire insurance on the library building and its contents. Present insurance totaling $9,000 on the building and $6,000 on its contents will be increased to $18,000 and $12,000, respectively.

Old Wall, Cell Block Going
The board received the resignation of C. D. Kroust, East Berlin, as a member of the board of directors and decided to await the annual membership meeting of the library association in November to fill the vacancy.

The old jail yard wall is rapidly being removed and the former cell block also is being razed, board members were told Friday evening.

The board's next meeting will be held Thursday, October 5. Mrs. E. S. Lewars, a past president, presided Friday evening.

Tokyo, Sept. 16 (AP)—An air force source said here tonight that American Marines today captured Kimpo airfield, 12 miles northeast of Inchon.

By LEIF ERICKSON

Tokyo, Sept. 16 (AP)—American Marines drove swiftly inland from the new Inchon beachhead today toward the Red supply lifelines at Seoul, rail and road hub of Korea. On the old southeast Korea beachhead United Nations troops exploded a 70-mile offensive.

The west coast port of Inchon, 22 miles from Seoul, was captured quickly Friday after the Marines and South Koreans stormed ashore under a thunderous naval and air bombardment. Field dispatches Saturday reported parts of the city in flames.

Landing on Wolmi island, the Leathernecks quickly mopped up Red resistance, crossed a half-mile causeway to Inchon's beaches and knifed swiftly two miles into Inchon proper.

Planes KO Tanks

They plunged six miles eastward toward Seoul, fallen South-Korean capital, and established a line across the Inchon peninsula. Field dispatches reported the beachhead secure. Troops and equipment flowed ashore. South Korean troops landed Friday night, mopped up Red remnants in the city of 300,000.

A navy communique issued at 7:45 p.m. (5:45 a.m. EST), said Marine Corsair fighter-bombers and ground forces ko'd six Red tanks which threatened to delay the marine advance toward Seoul.

That action was placed three miles north of Inchon. Without pinpointing the Leatherneck advance, the communique said they "fanned out farther" at daybreak Saturday. Carrier planes "in force" were covering the advance.

Inchon Port In Use

The navy reported also that Corsairs Friday destroyed all but 50 in a column of 280 trucks believed to be rushing reinforcements toward Inchon from Kimpo, 12 miles northeast.

Inchon's port facilities already had been put back into operation.

An earlier report by a Korean naval spokesman that the marines had driven within 10 miles of Seoul could not—by late afternoon Saturday—be confirmed.

Behind the advance marine units were some 40,000 men. Off shore in the Yellow sea was the liberation fleet of 262 ships—including vessels of many nations.

Launch New Offensive

Some 165 miles to the southeast, Allied troops mounted an offensive on the central and southern sectors of the 125-mile United Nations beachhead perimeter—seeking a major breakthrough. A booming artillery barrage kicked off the push.

FOUR HELD FOR
PELTING AUTOS
WITH TOMATOES

Two pairs of brothers, one of the youths on parole from the Adams county court, according to authorities, are in the Adams county jail in default of $100 bail each for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Monday morning on charges of hurling missiles at the passengers in a passing automobile.

Their names were given as Blaine and Uies Hackedy, both of Fairfield R. 2, and Algine and Wayne Price, of Gettysburg R. 2.

Squire Snyder said the "missiles" involved were tomatoes, which occupants of the car driven by Algine Price are alleged to have hurled at an automobile driven by Charles E. Gebhart, Littlestown R. 2, on the Biglerville road Friday night.

Gebhart, with his fiancée, to whom he was married this morning and another young woman, was driving toward Biglerville when the car alleged to have been driven by Price, passed them. As it passed, a shower of tomatoes flew at the car. One struck the windshield in front of the driver, cutting Gebhart's finger badly, and showering all three occupants with tomato juice and glass.

Gebhart turned around and gave chase, stopping the other car on East Lincoln avenue, where the four youths were arrested by state and borough police. Authorities were investigating reports that other cars and the proprietor of a fruit stand were also "bombed" with tomatoes. Baskets of tomatoes were found in the Price car.

REGISTRATION TO END TONIGHT UNTIL ELECTION

Four hundred and fifty Adams countians have registered so far at special registrations held during the past two weeks.

Today marks the last day on which a countian can register for the November 7 election. After the close of registrations tonight the books will remain closed until after the election in November.

Special registration hours today are from 1 to 4 o'clock this afternoon and from 7 to 9 o'clock this evening for those who wish to register at the commissioners' office in the court house. The commissioners also comprise the Adams county election board.

Totals Announced

Friday evening at McSherrystown, 18 Republicans, 15 Democrats and one non-partisan voter were recorded by the special registrars sitting at the engine house there. At Fairfield on Thursday, the registrars enrolled 24 Republicans, 20 Democrats and six non-partisan voters.

The total number of Republicans who listed their names and addresses with the special traveling registrar was 267, the number of Democrats 138 and non-partisans, 12.

At Gettysburg Friday night, during a special registration, only seven, all Republicans, were recorded. During the entire day Friday, at the court house here, 36 Republicans and 7 Democrats were registered. It was expected that a large number of countians will be registered at the court house today.

Previous Figures

The special registration by the traveling registrars included: At Bonneville, eight Republicans, seven Democrats; York Springs, 54 Republicans, 21 Democrats; Cashtown, 29 Republicans, four Democrats; East Berlin, 21 Republicans, 28 Democrats; Littlestown, 25 Republicans, nine Democrats, three non-partisan; Bendersville, 45 Republicans, eight Democrats, one non-partisan; New Oxford, 11 Republicans, 19 Democrats; Biglerville, 32 Republicans, seven Democrats, one non-partisan; Fairfield, 24 Republicans, 20 Democrats, six non-partisan; McSherrystown, 18 Republicans, 15 Democrats, one non-partisan.

CHURCH FILM IS PRAISED BY PREVIEW GROUP

"For Good or Evil," the United Lutheran Church-Cathedral Films motion picture filmed in Arendtsville, was described as excellent Friday afternoon by members of the press and radio who were invited to a special preview showing here.

The picture will be shown for Adams countians generally on Thursday at the Memorial auditorium in the South Mountain Fair grounds. Two showings will be given at that time, the first at 7:45 and the second at 9:15 o'clock.

Those who had the opportunity to see the show Friday said that the residents of Arendtsville who are depicted in many of the scenes handled themselves like veteran movie actors. The professional actors who portray the principal parts are outstanding, the preview audience held.

Not only does the picture carry a good moral — that money should be used for the glory of God — but it is presented so entertainingly that the film rivals commercial motion pictures made for entertainment in suspense and interest, the reviewers noted.

Michale Whalen as "the pastor" in the picture; George O'Donnell as "Dr. Spencer" and Guy Wallace as "Norm Harper" were very satisfactory in the leads among the professional actors in the production.

Among the countians who give more than a good account of themselves are Dr. Fred Lewis, Clarence Oyer, Walter Frederick, Charles Bushey, Arnold Orner, J. Blaine Bushey and Ernest D. Bushman, all of Arendtsville, in a scene showing a meeting of the church council; Miss Louise McDannell, as the secretary of "Dr. Spencer"; Mrs. Anna Allison as Dr. Spencer's housekeeper; David Houck, Mrs. Olive Bushey and Elaine Taylor as employees of the bank, the members of the Trinity Lutheran choir as "students" at a graduation scene, the Rev. Robert C. Schiebel in a baptism scene, and Kathy Carol Barbour, six-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barbour, the "baby" at the baptism scene.

Local reviewers found the statement by Henry Endress, stewardship secretary of the ULCA, that "you should see the picture twice, once to see the film and once to pick out your neighbors in the film" was more than true.

Possibly 100 countians can be seen in the picture that was shot at Arendtsville, Gettysburg and the area around those two communities. The first viewing of the picture finds the spectator so absorbed in the story being told that it is difficult to pick out the countians in the show, those attending said.

The 1924 Oakland of Peter Flickinger "stars" in one scene, and the home of S. A. Skinner and Elias Hoffman are among those shown in one scene where the pastor visits his parishioners.

The Arendtsville bank is to be seen along with most of the remainder of Arendtsville as background in the film.

BANKERS TO MEET

The Adams County Bankers association will meet Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at Basehore's restaurant, Littlestown. H. Vernon Ferster, Hanover, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker.

LIONS TO MEET

The Gettysburg Lions will hold their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the Methodist church. It will be "Honor Our President" night and local athletic coaches will be guests.

WOMEN'S CIVIC COUNCIL MEETS FRIDAY EVENING

The Women's Civic Council held its first meeting of the fall season Friday evening at the YWCA building, with 10 members in attendance. Mrs. G. E. Buehler, president, was in charge. The name of Mrs. Granville Schultz was added to the roll, as representative of the Woman's club, replacing Mrs. E. W. Thomas.

Following reports of the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Buehler said that the council had been invited to appoint representatives to the Pennsylvania Day committee and named Mrs. Grover Ridler and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh to this committee. Mrs. Ridler reported on the recent meeting of the Pennsylvania Day committee.

Mrs. W. A. Hennig, representative of the Sororist club, announced the selection of Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars as one of the "Distinguished Daughters" of Pennsylvania.

Motions were unanimously carried commending the borough council and "particularly Fred Hummelbaugh for the work done in connection with the mosquito eradication program in Gettysburg," also commending the Exchange club for its action with respect to the Christmas lights, and Eugene Sickles for his "work in the past with the Board of Health." Previous to the council meeting, the executive board, consisting of Mrs. Buehler, Mrs. Fortenbaugh, Mrs. Lester Johnson, Mrs. Ridler and Mrs. W. A. Corbett, held a short meeting in connection with the program for the coming year.

The next meeting of the council will be held October 20.

VETS' OUTFIT PLANS REUNION

The third annual reunion of former members of the 3940th Quartermaster Gas Supply outfit that served in France, Germany, Austria and Belgium during World War II will be held Saturday evening, September 23, at the Lee-Meade inn. Fred Slaybaugh of Biglerville is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The supply company was composed mostly of Pennsylvania men, including a number from Gettysburg, Biglerville, Bendersville, Littlestown and Fairfield. Others were from Hanover, with some from Reading, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Between 60 and 70 veterans of the organization are expected for the reunion. With wives and friends, the total number at the banquet and entertainment program to follow will probably exceed 120. Mr. Slaybaugh said. The banquet is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

10 months trained in this country, the 3940th in Ireland and two weeks in England before going into actual combat service. The first reunion was held two years ago in Philadelphia and the second last year in Reading.

Emmitsburg

VOTING TAKES PLACE MONDAY

Emmitsburg voters will go to the polls Monday and vote for the candidates of their choice. Monday is the Primary election. The general election date is November 7. The polls will open at 8 a.m., and close at 8 p.m. (DST). Voting places for the district will be: Precincts No. 1, fire hall; No. 2, Senator Storm's office, East Main street, and No. 3, St. Anthony's school house.

The squirrel season for Maryland opened Friday. It will close September 30. The limit is six in one day, with no season limit.

The Emmitsburg Hanover Shoe baseball team won over Harney last Sunday in the first of the playoff for championship in the league. They won 8 to 7 with Joy and Davis pitching and McGlaughlin catching. Wastler, T. Sayler and Sanders each scored two and D. Sayler and McGlaughlin each one of the eight runs to win the contest.

A third effort will be made Sunday to get over the hurdle of the first game of the Pen-Mar baseball playoffs. Two tries the past two Sundays were failures due to rain. The rules call for a full nine inning game for championship playoff game. During the playing season, after a game has gone 4 1/2 innings and is called due to rain the team having the most runs is winner.

The Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce will meet next Tuesday evening in the fire hall.

Fire Chief John J. Hollinger has announced that the fire siren test this Monday will be a complete test of the full amount of cycles and not the usual short blast.

Miss Patricia A. Cole Is Bride Of Robert E. O'Brien, Jr.

Miss Patricia Ann Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Martin Cole, 51 East Stevens street, became the bride of Robert Emmet O'Brien, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. O'Brien, Ridgefield Park, N. J., this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Francis Xavier Catholic church. The Rev. Fr. Anthony P. Kane officiated at the nuptial mass and double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with gladioli and fern. The church pews were decorated with white satin bows and lighted tapers. A white carpet was placed in the aisle.

Mrs. George F. Eberhart played selections of wedding music, including the processional and recessional marches of Carlo Rossini. During the mass Mrs. Paul L. Roy, aunt of the bride, sang "Ave Maria" by Carlo Rossini; "Panis Angelicus" by Lambillotte, and "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy," at the Communion.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with an off-the-shoulder effect, bertha collar, net yoke, and sleeves ending in points over the hands. The pannier pleated skirt ended in a sweeping cathedral train. Her veil was of heirloom lace. She carried a white prayer book from which fell white satin ribbons with Stephanotis and topped with a white orchid.

Miss Janice Cole, Detroit, Mich., cousin of the bride, who served as maid of honor, wore a gown of ice blue satin with high neckline, full skirt, and matching gauntlets and headress. She carried a cascade bouquet of mixed fall flowers.

Sebastian Natale of Harrisburg was best man. The ushers were Robert Cole, Gettysburg, brother of the bride, and Julian Collesano, Ridgefield Park, N. J.

Thomas, Kenneth, William and Edwin Cole, brothers of the bride served the mass.

Reception Held

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe dress, black accessories, and a corsage of yellow pompon chrysanthemums. The groom's mother wore a taupe dress with brown accessories and a salmon glauxemellia corsage.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at Bankert's restaurant.

The bride graduated from Saint Joseph's high school, Emmitsburg, in 1946, and is employed as secretary to Judge W. C. Sheely. The groom is a graduate of Ridgefield Park high school and is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Navy Air Corps. Next week he will enter his senior year at Gettysburg college where he is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Upon their return from a wedding trip they will reside at 204 South Stratton street. For her going-away costume, the bride chose a forest green suit, black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Gardners Driver In Crash At Carlisle

A Gardners R. 1 motorist faces a charge of reckless driving after the automobile he was driving crashed into another car at West and Pomfret streets, Carlisle, on Thursday night.

Police said Charles W. Stoner was driving south on West street when his car struck an auto operated by Mrs. Donald E. Page, of Carlisle Barracks. Mrs. Page had stopped at a stop sign and then moved into the intersection after a car had passed. Stoner's vehicle struck the right side of Mrs. Page's car and sent it into a metal post at the curb.

Mrs. Page suffered a shoulder injury and a laceration of the head. Police estimated the damage to her car at $600 and $200 to Stoner's car.

FRACTURES ARM

Mrs. Richard Hankey, 62, Gettysburg R. 1, fell down the cellar steps at her home Wednesday, suffering a fracture of the right arm and bruises to her right leg and right side. She was treated at the Warner hospital.

KILLED IN CRASH

Paoli, Pa., Sept. 15 (P)—A ride home from a football game in Coatesville ended in the death of a Germantown high school student and serious injuries to four others tonight in the collision of a car and a truck. William Sandrow, 15, Philadelphia, was the victim of the crash.

BIBLE CLASS SPEAKER

Ray Shetter will be the speaker Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock at the meeting of the Men's Bible class of St. James Lutheran church.

COUNCIL TO MEET

A special meeting of the borough council will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock in the council chambers in the fire engine house, to enact an ordinance authorizing the execution and delivery of deeds of the borough sewer system to the Gettysburg Municipal Authority, according to notices sent out by Anna B. Dracha, secretary of the council.

MISS ELIZABETH ANN LOTT, DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. WALTER JAMISON LOTT, GARDNERS, WILL BECOME THE BRIDE OF JOHN CRILEY BAIR, OF FINDLAY, OHIO, AND SWARTHMORE, SON OF MR. AND MRS. ROBERT T. BAIR, SR., OF SWARTHMORE, AT 2 P.M. TODAY IN THE CHURCH OF THE ABIDING PRESENCE. THE REV. WALLACE E. FISHER, COLLEGE LUTHERAN PASTOR, WILL PERFORM THE DOUBLE RING CEREMONY.

Ross Sachs, soloist, accompanied by Miss Barbara Klinefelter, Biglerville, organist, will sing "Because" by D'Hardelot, "Ich Leibe Dich" by Grieg, "O Perfect Love" and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. Miss Klinefelter will present an organ recital preceding the ceremony.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be attired in an ivory tone off-the-shoulder satin gown, appliqued in peach, with an illusion neckline, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves buttoning at wrist, and full skirt falling from side and back in pressed pleats which fall into a train. Her three-tiered fingertip veil of imported Ivory French illusion will fall from an ivory satin cloche. She will carry a bouquet centered with a white orchid and surrounded by fleur d'amour and ivy.

Five Attendants

Mrs. Robert T. Bair, Jr., of Ridley, Pa., sister-in-law of the groom, who will be matron of honor, will

Reception At Hotel

The bride's mother will be clad in a plum colored dress, black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Bair, the bridegroom's mother, will wear a green dress, brown accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony

District Scouters Will Meet Monday

A Black Walnut Boy Scout District meeting will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the office of District Chairman Edward B. Bulleit in the First National bank building, it was announced today.

All district personnel, institutional representatives and committee chairmen in the district are scheduled to attend the session. At the meeting the scout leaders will review the summer activities, receive reports from the various scout troops of the district, outline the remainder of the 1950 scouting program and discuss the recruiting of new scouts and other personnel.

EGG PRICES UP THIS MORNING AT LOCAL MART

Biggest shift on the Farmers' market this morning was in the price of eggs. Large whites brought as high as 68 cents a dozen at some stands. At some others they were from 63 to 65 cents a dozen. Where large whites sold for 68 cents, large browns were 65 cents a dozen, medium whites 63 and medium browns 60.

Tomatoes and peaches remained in good supply, but sweet corn was less plentiful than a week ago. Tomatoes were 15 and 20 cents a quart. Roasting ears on the market this morning continued at 40 cents a dozen. Peaches, including Hales, Elbertas, Belle of Georgia, Champions and Bracketts brought 20 cents a quart basket, and $1 and $1.25 a half bushel.

Potatoes were 20 cents a box and sweet potatoes 25 cents a box. Apples, mostly Summer Rambo, Wealthy and Smokehouse, were 15 cents a quart box, 20 to 25 a quarter peck and $1.25 a bushel. Blue grapes sold for 20 cents a quart box, and plums were 20 cents a quart. Crab apples were 15 cents a quart, and Bartlett pears 20 cents a quart.

In the vegetable line, green and yellow beans and lima beans were 15 cents a quart. Shelled limas brought 25 cents a pint. Cucumbers were priced from one cent to five cents each; pumpkins and squash, five to 15 cents each; onions, 15 cents a quart; lettuce, 10 cents a box.

Whipping cream was 35 cents a pint; cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint; potato salad, 20 cents a pint; cakes, $1 each; bread, 20 cents a loaf; rolls, 20 cents a dozen; pies, 40 and 50 cents each and cookies, 25 cents a dozen.

LIST SPEAKERS FOR GUILD MEET

Mrs. Roy Limbert, Dover, president of the Mercersburg Synodical Women's Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed church, has announced that there will be two inspirational speakers at the fifth biennial meeting of the Synodical Women's Guild, which will be held in St. John's Reformed church, Chambersburg, Thursday, October 5.

Mrs. Milton Lang, Baltimore, will speak at the morning session which begins at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lang and her husband, Dr. Milton Lang, were missionaries in the Leper hospital, India. Dr. Lang's health forced them to return to the states. The speaker is one of the women on the General Council of the Evangelical and Reformed church. She is also active in inter-denominational work in Baltimore. During this past summer she was on the staff of Camp Michaux, near Pine Grove Furnace. Her theme will be "Women in the Home, the Church and the Community."

Guest speaker for the afternoon session will be Dr. Francis Harvey Green. Dr. Green taught for many years at West Chester Normal school, and was for many years headmaster of the Pennington Boys' school, Pennington, N. J.

A fellowship dinner at 6 p.m., will climax the day's program. Christian students from China, Japan, Iraq, India, Honduras, Porto Rico, etc., will show in music and talks, "What Christian Missions Have Done for My Country."

Mercersburg Synod comprises Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Perry and York counties. Mrs. Limbert requests that all Guilds send the following to Mrs. W. J. LaMaster, 220 West Jackson street, York, by September 30:

Credential blanks filled out with the 50 cent registration fee for each delegate, and $1.50 for each person who will attend the fellowship dinner. Dinner tickets and delegates' tags will be sent to all for whom the necessary fees have been paid.

WILL IS ENTERED

The will of Charles F. McCaffrey, late of Littlestown, has been entered for probate by the executors of the $6,500 estate, Mary Frances McCaffrey and Arthur E. Bair, both of Littlestown.

Marines Drive Inland From Inchon Beachhead Aiming For Red Lifelines At Seoul

Tokyo, Sept. 16 (P)—An air force source said here tonight that American Marines today captured Kimpo airfield, 12 miles northeast of Inchon.

By LEIF ERICKSON

Tokyo, Sept. 16 (P)—American Marines drove swiftly inland from the new Inchon beachhead today toward the Red supply lifelines at Seoul, rail and road hub of Korea. On the old south-east Korea beachhead United Nations troops exploded a 70-mile offensive.

The west coast port of Inchon, 22 miles from Seoul, was captured quickly Friday after the Marines and South Koreans stormed ashore under a thunderous naval and air bombardment. Field dispatches Saturday reported parts of the city in flames.

Landing on Wolmi island, the Leathernecks quickly mopped up Red resistance, crossed a half-mile causeway to Inchon's beaches and knifed swiftly two miles into Inchon proper.

Planes KO Tanks

They plunged six miles eastward toward Seoul, fallen South Korean capital, and established a line across the Inchon peninsula. Field dispatches reported the beachhead secure. Troops and equipment flowed ashore. South Korean troops landed Friday night, mopped up Red remnants in the city of 300,000.

A navy communique issued at 7:45 p.m. (5:45 a.m., EST), said Marine Corsair fighter-bombers and ground forces took six Red tanks which threatened to delay the marine advance toward Seoul.

That action was placed three miles north of Inchon. Without pin-pointing the Leatherneck advance, the communique said they "fanned out farther" at daybreak Saturday. Carrier planes "in force" were covering the advance.

Inchon Port In Use

The navy reported also that Corsairs Friday destroyed all but 50 in a column of 280 trucks believed to be rushing reinforcements toward Inchon from Kimpo, 12 miles northeast.

Inchon's port facilities already had been put back into operation.

An earlier report by a Korean naval spokesman that the marines had driven within 10 miles of Seoul could not—by late afternoon Saturday—be confirmed.

Behind the advance marine units were some 40,000 men. Off shore in the Yellow sea was the liberation fleet of 262 ships—including vessels of many nations.

Launch New Offensive

Some 165 miles to the southeast, Allied troops mounted an offensive on the central and southern sectors of the 125-mile United Nations beachhead perimeter—seeking a major breakthrough. A booming artillery barrage kicked off the push.

Thus, the lengthening arms of a giant nutcracker were being applied to the North Koreans—a bold strategy planned by General MacArthur July 12. This was less than

$900 Damage To Big Truck In Accident

A tractor-trailer owned by Reginald W. Turner, Jr., Leesburg, Va., and driven by Earl D. Pollard, 29, also of Leesburg, tore off its front wheels and part of the undercarriage when it ran off the highway and struck a culvert on the Emmitsburg road five miles south of Gettysburg near Greenmount at 7:20 p.m. Friday. The driver escaped injury, but damage to the tractor-trailer was estimated at $900.

State police of the Gettysburg substation, who investigated the accident, said Pollard was following another tractor-trailer truck, going south. Another truck made a left turn into a side road and the first tractor-trailer stopped. Pollard applied his brakes, but was unable to stop, and pulled to the right to avoid striking the trailer in front of him.

DIRECTORS OF ADAMS LIBRARY MEET ON FRIDAY

Directors of the Adams County Free library held their first fall meeting at the library Friday evening when reports for the last two months of summer operation were presented and the fall and winter program was mapped.

Mrs. William Snyder, librarian, said the library's bookmobile will begin its regular schedule of trips throughout the county next Monday. Littlestown junior-senior high school has been added to the bookmobile schedule for the coming year.

The directors voted to double the present fire insurance on the library building and its contents. Present insurance totaling $9,000 on the building and $6,000 on its contents will be increased to $18,000 and $12,000, respectively.

Old Wall, Cell Block Going

The board received the resignation of C. D. Krout, East Berlin, as a member of the board of directors and decided to await the annual membership meeting of the library association in November to fill the vacancy.

The old jail yard wall is rapidly being removed and the former cell block also is being razed, board members were told Friday evening.

The board's next meeting will be held Thursday, October 5. Mrs. E. S. Lewars, a past president, presided Friday evening.

York Springs Sports Group Asks Charter

Articles of incorporation were filed Friday by Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., in the office of the Adams county prothonotary, Wayne K. Shields, for the York Springs Rod and Gun club which seeks to organize as a non-profit organization. Officers and incorporators were listed as Robert Thompson, president; Robert Martin, vice president; Rodger Guise, treasurer; and Robert Connelly, Elmo Smith, Jack Starry and Hoerner Cashman, all of the York Springs area.

Incorporators list no real estate but claim personal property valued at $2,000. They state their purpose as conserving, restoring and managing fish, game and other wildlife in the York Springs area and also surrounding sections in northeastern Adams county; also, to promote better fishing, hunting and sportsmanlike relations between land owners and sportsmen, proper respect for the observance of fish and game laws and to purchase or sell the properties reasonably necessary for the promotion of the above purposes and to construct a home and shoot area for club members.

SENT 10-DAY NOTICE

A 10-day notice has been sent by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore to George E. Zutall, York, charged by borough police with driving on the left side of the highway. Police said Zutall, driving a truck west on Chambersburg street, swung into Buford avenue and traveled about 200 feet on the left side of the street, nearly striking the curb.

FILES ADMINISTRATION BOND

An administration bond in the estate of Alice Sophia Myers, late of Berwick township, has been filed with the county register and recorder by the administrator, Herman T. Myers, New Oxford R. D.

FOUR HELD FOR PELTING AUTOS WITH TOMATOES

Two pairs of brothers, one of the youths on parole from the Adams county court, according to authorities, are in the Adams county jail in default of $100 bail each for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Monday morning on charges of hurling missiles at the passengers in a passing automobile.

Their names were given as Blaine and Ules Hackedy, both of Fairfield R. 2, and Algie and Wayne Price, of Gettysburg R. 2.

Squire Snyder said the "missiles" involved were tomatoes, which occupants of the car driven by Algie Price are alleged to have hurled at an automobile driven by Charles E. Gebhart, Littlestown R. 2, on the Biglerville road Friday night.

Gebhart, with his fiancée, to whom he was married this morning and another young woman, was driving toward Biglerville when the car alleged to have been driven by Price, passed them. As it passed, a shower of tomatoes flew at the car. One struck the windshield in front of the driver, cutting Gebhart's finger badly, and showering all three occupants with tomato juice and glass.

Gebhart turned around and gave chase, stopping the other car on East Lincoln avenue, where the four youths were arrested by state and borough police. Authorities were investigating reports that other cars and the proprietor of a fruit stand were also "bombed" with tomatoes. Baskets of tomatoes were found in the Price car.

FUNERALS OF TRAIN WRECK VICTIMS BEGIN

By FRANK O'BRIEN
Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 15 (AP)—The mourning Wyoming valley today begins to bury its 33 soldier victims of a troop train wreck on a mist-shrouded Ohio flatland.

Those killed in the crash were all residents of Wilkes-Barre and surrounding communities in this hard coal mining region of northeastern Pennsylvania.

Neighbors in civilian life, they were, inducted into federal service last week with other members of the 109th Field Artillery, a unit of Pennsylvania's 28th National Guard Division.

A few hours after they left Wilkes-Barre bound for Camp Atterbury, Ind., they met death as the Pennsylvania railroad's "Spirit of St. Louis" roared out of the fog and struck the rear of their stalled troop train near Coshocton, Ohio.

Yesterday, a slowly-moving funeral train brought the bodies of the 33 victims back home to the stunned valley that had bid them a tearful wartime farewell such a short time before.

Mayor Luther M. Kniffen called for all business to cease in this city of 85,000 as the train arrived. Silent, shocked crowds at the station and along the streets traversed by the funeral procession numbered more than 50,000.

Families At Armory
Only an occasional sob was heard as weapons carriers driven at foot pace bore the flag-draped coffins to Kingston armory. Along the streets, flags at half mast drooped in windless air, and black bunting on many buildings reflected a heavy-clouded sky.

The families of the dead—ranging from the destitute to the well-to-do—waited at the armory. The weapons carriers drove inside with their numbered burdens to numbered spaces.

There was no ceremony at the

Emmitsburg

The Emmitsburg Town Council held its September meeting Tuesday night at the town office in the fire hall. Burgess Thornton Rodgers presided with Members Lloyd Oiles and Wales Rightmire in attendance with Miss Louise Sebald, secretary. The burgess reported the sewer connections on North Seton avenue completed. A number of projects are being conducted but not completed. One of these is the opening and widening of the small stream that runs parallel to North Seton avenue, in the rear of the properties on the west side of the avenue. This stream is on the Fitzgerald property and is being cleaned and widened with Mrs. Fitzgerald's permission in order to eliminate the overflow of this stream into Flat run. The commissioners decided to have the alleys and gutters of the town cleaned in the near future.

Lutheran Women Working
A small group of Lutheran church women met Wednesday afternoon at the parish house and jarred 150 quarts of peaches, apples and tomatoes. They processed three bushels of peaches, three bushels of apples and one of tomatoes. The following women helped: Mrs. Roy Maxell, Mrs. George Eyster, Miss Helen Fuss, Mrs. Robert Gillean, Miss Charlotte Miller, Mrs. Harry McNair, Mrs. Clarence Hahn, Mrs. E. R. Shriver, Mrs. Morris Zentz, Mrs. Edward Smith, Miss Grace Rowe, Mrs. A. W. McCreaf, Mrs. Charles Harner. The women of the church will use this canned fruit at their church suppers. They serve the Lions club regularly the first and third Mondays of each month. They also serve a dinner at the annual bazaar which is usually held the second Saturday in December.

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Valentine recently in honor of their children and grandchildren who have had birthdays recently or will soon celebrate birthdays. Two birthday cakes with the name of each of the celebrants were placed at the ends of the table. Refreshments were served to Miss Agnes Valentine, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bostian and son, of Detroit, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs E. Valentine and daughter, Regina, and Dave Thompson, all of Erie Valley, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Valentine, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Valentine, Jr., and son, Sammy, and

First Funeral Today
The first funeral today will be that of Private First Class Leonard Balonis, of Wilkes-Barre. Four other interments were scheduled for today, 23 for Saturday, and four on Monday.

The 967th Field Artillery, of Wilkes-Barre, will provide 24-hour honor guards at homes and funeral parlors.

The body of only one victim will be buried out of the state. He is Recruit Frank Martinez, of Wilkes-Barre, whose mother, Mrs. Louella Martinez lives at 810 Fox street, the Bronx, New York. Martinez' body was sent to New York last night.

K. L. Sheeler, general claim agent of the Pennsylvania railroad conferred today with veterans' groups and the Wilkes-Barre Bar association on compensating the families of the dead. He said the railroad would not use the fact the government is technically operating all United States railroads to avoid payment of indemnities.

STORES OPEN
MONDAY NIGHT

The stores of Littlestown will continue to remain open on Monday evenings, according to a decision reached at a special meeting of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, held Thursday evening in the fire hall. During the month of August and this past Monday the stores were closed on Monday evenings as a trial. There had been agitation for continued Monday night closing, but as a result of Thursday night's meeting, it was decided that the stores should continue to remain open Monday evenings.

Theron W. Spangler, reporting for the football fund, stated that in addition to the Chamber of Commerce, the Littlestown Rotary club, Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 8954, VFW, and the Ocker Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, had contributed to the fund thus far.

Plan Christmas Lights

Charles Ritter, who is in charge of the Pennsylvania Week celebration, gave a preliminary report on plans and activities to date.

A Christmas decorating committee, consisting of W. H. Dorn, Clarence L. Schwartz and Chester S. Byers, was appointed by the president. It was also decided that the stores will remain open on Armistice Day since it falls on a Saturday.

President Samuel H. Higinbotham was in charge of the meeting and E. Paul Bigelow gave the secretary's report. The next meeting of the group will be at the call of the president.

Prof. Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown school, and H. Dean Stover, of the high school faculty, attended a Laurel league football conference at New Freedom on Wednesday evening. The next meeting will be a dinner meeting at Schott's, Littlestown, on November 15.

Mehring Rites

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the J. W. Little and son funeral home, Littlestown, for Mrs. Emma H. Mehring, 68, widow of Dr. John W. Mehring, fatally injured when her car hit a curb and stone wall in Penn township, and crashed into a parked automobile Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Mehring, who was active in church and community affairs, was returning from Lancaster at the time of the accident, where she had taken her grandson, Richard Mehring, who entered Franklin and Marshall college. Services will be in charge of her pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Interment will be in the Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown.

Those who will serve as pallbearers are Milton Bishe, Harvey W. Schwartz, Wilbur A. Bankert, Luther D. Snyder, Stanley B. Stover and Luther W. Ritter.

The solemn closing of the Miraculous Medal novena, which began Sunday evening and was held every evening during the past week in St. Aloysius Catholic church, took place on Friday night. In addition to the usual order of service, the Rev. Fr. Francis Leddy, New York, of the Vincentian Priests of the Congregation of Missions, who inaugurated the novena, and conducted the services, imparted the Papal blessing to those that attended the closing service.

Devotions in honor of "Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal" will be held each Sunday evening in St. Aloysius church.

Attend York Fair

Among those from Littlestown who attended York fair on Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Helwig and daughter, Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon and daughter, Daria; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ritter and son, Billy; Mr. and Mrs. Neaveh Crouse and daughter, Barbara; Hazel and Jean Krout; Mary L. Ritter and the Rev. and Mrs. John O. Brumbach and daughter, Audrey.

Marines

three weeks after the tank-led Reds charged southward across parallel 28—and at a time when the North Koreans were pulverizing U. S. troops along the Kum river.

MacArthur said the big pincer movement would cause the Korean Red army to "disintegrate" sooner or later. MacArthur obviously gambled that Red China or Russia would not fight.

Another Red Blunder

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U. S. Eighth Army commander, told AP Correspondent Jack MacBeth that "It should be over quickly"—if the forces in front of him are all that's left of the Red Korean army.

The success of the Inchon landings was credited in large measure to the daring of six destroyers—and a blunder by the Reds.

AP Correspondent Reiman Morin reported that the destroyers—units of Task Force 77—were ordered to cruise slowly by Wolmi island which guards the entrance to Inchon harbor, to draw fire from shore positions.

The Red guns were silent for anxious minutes. Then they made the mistake of opening up on the "sitting ducks." This revealed their positions to the heavy guns of cruisers and carrier planes.

Littlestown

Littlestown—The Rev. and Mrs. Charles B. Rebert, West King street, Littlestown, returned home on Friday from Caldwell, N. J., where they spent a week with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elman Rebert and son, Larry. Last Sunday their 50th wedding anniversary was observed with a dinner at the home of their son. Also present at the anniversary dinner were Rev. Rebert's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Allee Rebert and sons, Jeffrey and Christopher, Stroudsburg, Pa. They received numerous gifts and cards of congratulations.

The couple were married September 12, 1900, at Brentwood, Md., by the Rev. William Wolfe, Brentwood. Mrs. Rebert was the former Ida Emma Crapster, of Brentwood, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crapster, Westminster. Rev. Rebert is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Rebert, White Hall.

Following their marriage, the couple went to housekeeping at Stoyestown, Somerset county, which was the Rev. Mr. Rebert's first charge. Prior to his retirement in 1944, Rev. Rebert served as pastor for almost 18 years in the Carroll Reformed church, Westminster R. 2. For the past five years, the Rev. Mr. Rebert has been the secretary-treasurer of the Littlestown ministry.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert White have moved into the second floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Sell, South Queen street. Mr. White is one of the new members of the Littlestown junior-senior high school faculty.

Mrs. Dale Starry, East King street, extended, was leader and hostess to the September meeting of the Alta Hummer Missionary Society of St. John's Lutheran church on Thursday evening. Devotions included a song service, a scripture lesson by Mrs. Clyde Ohler of Mr. Allyn, Md., prayer by Mrs. Kenneth D. James and a second scripture lesson by the leader. "Overtones of Stewardship" was the topic for the month. After an introduction by the leader, the overtones, "Christ and Obedience," "Thanks" and "Fruits" were read by several of the members, after which the concluding section was discussed by the leader. The monthly magazine quiz was conducted, followed by the missionary benediction.

Mrs. Kenneth D. James conducted the business session, and Mrs. Samuel Renner gave the secretary's report. Mrs. Dale Starry was selected as the delegate to represent the society at the 11th annual convention of the Women's Missionary society of the West Penn Conference, Central Penna. Synod, U.L.C.A., which will be held in St. Peter's Lutheran church, York, Oct. 17 and 18. It was announced that there will be "A Family Institute" at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, October 24 to 26, which the members are urged to attend. The next meeting will be held Thursday, October 12 at the home of Mrs. Elmo Jones, East King street, extended, with Mrs. Edgar Wolfe as the guest. Mrs. Starry contributed a guess package, which was received by Mrs. James. Following the meeting there was a box social, with the proceeds going into the society treasury. Mrs. Raymond Reinman received a prize for having the prettiest box, and Mrs. William Lippy for the most original box.

A census of parishioners of the local Catholic church has been in progress this week by the pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, who has been visiting each family to obtain the desired information. Parishioners have been giving Father Hartnett contributions for the church's winter coal supply during these visits.

Serving In Korea

Marine Commissioned Warrant Officer Edgar Baker Stock, son of Mrs. Susan L. Baker, Abbottstown, is shown aboard ship while enroute to Korea, where he is now serving with a Marine unit. A former student of Gettysburg high school, Stock enlisted in the Marine Corps in September, 1932, at Baltimore.

New Oxford

New Oxford — Vernon C. Rife, who had the tip of a finger amputated in an accident which occurred while he was working, is recuperating rapidly and is attending to his duties as usual although under a physician's care.

A group of members of the local Catholic parish made a trip by chartered bus on Sunday to Emmitsburg where they visited the tomb of Mother Seton, who became a Sister of Charity after her widowhood and was the foundress of the girl's school still functioning at Emmitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe, who have been making their home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoff, near Pine Run, have moved to the Chester Shank place nearby. Mr. and Mrs. Shank have moved to Hampton.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Smith, Harrisburg, spent Tuesday with her sister, Miss Mae Adelaide Kuhn, Hanover, a guest at the Kuhn convalescent home east of town.

The recent block collection received for the benefit of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church was very gratifying according to report of the pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett.

C. K. Yeager, who has been very ill at his home for several months, is somewhat improved. Miss Mary Faye Sheffer, East Berlin, who has been registered nurse for Mr. Yeager, has left his case and is now doing state nursing work.

George Staub, near Pine Run, has been confined to his room by illness. It has been reported that the enrollment at the local parochial school has reached 173, with 89 boys and 84 girls in the entire eight grades taught by the Sisters of Mercy.

A census of parishioners of the local Catholic church has been in progress this week by the pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, who has been visiting each family to obtain the desired information. Parishioners have been giving Father Hartnett contributions for the church's winter coal supply during these visits.

News Briefs

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 (AP)—If Pittsburgh is hit by an atomic bomb attack, many of the city's residents may be quartered in the limestone mines of nearby Butler county. So says Ross L. Leffer, civil defense coordinator for the city and Allegheny county.

He told newsmen at a conference yesterday that the public, churches and schools will be asked to aid in finding more evacuee centers.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 (AP)—One polo death and three new cases are reported in western Pennsylvania. Eight-year-old Linda Layton of Pittsburgh died yesterday in Municipal hospital. It was the city's third death from the disease in 1950. Meadville reported its first cases of the year—a 23-year-old woman and a 10-year-old girl. Both are light cases. They brought the Crawford county total to 14 this year.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 (AP)—John S. McMahon, 47, a former newspaperman who became one of the country's top exponents of industrial health programs, died of a heart attack in his office yesterday.

McMahon was with the Industrial Hygiene Foundation of Mellon Institute since 1936 and its managing director since 1942. He directed scientists, engineers and others in the development of health protection, accident prevention and medical services in industry.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 (AP)—Possibility of a strike in Westinghouse Electric corporation plants grew today as two major unions representing the bulk of 70,000 workers expressed deep dissatisfaction with an offer of an eight-cent-hourly wage hike.

The new CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) and the Independent United Electrical Workers (IUE) flatly rejected the offer.

The executive committee of the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Adams Electric cooperative building, to the rear of North Stratton street, Harry E. Brown, Fairfield, president of the executive committee, announced today.

Phone Biglerville 21-R-14

The news columns of The Gettysburg Times are open to all sources. Those residing in the Upper Communities are requested to telephone their news to Roland Kime, Biglerville Exchange 21-R-14 or phone direct to The Times, Gettysburg 640.

The regular meeting of the Upper Adams County Lions club will be held Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Biglerville grade school building. Present at the meeting will be District Governor Carroll Dull and Deputy District Governor William Musser. At this meeting 100 per cent attendance will be the goal. Special music will be presented by the Upper Adams Lions barbershop quartet. In charge of arrangements for the meeting are Lions L. W. Kleinfelter, O. C. Rice, Jr., R. R. Starnier and Clyde Sell of the Attendance committee.

The Grace Yeiser Missionary society will meet on Monday evening at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Joseph Sabo.

Mrs. Clayton Starnier, her son, Myles, and daughter, Mrs. Edna Sowers, of Aspers, and Harold Ecker, Heidlersburg arrived Tuesday afternoon in Cambridge, Neb., to visit for a few days with Mrs. Starnier's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest tenBensel. The group left Sunday morning and will return next week.

The Everready Sunday school class of the Arendtsville Reformed church will hold its September meeting in the social room of the church.

Election of officers will take place in the Bendersville Lutheran Sunday school on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Holy Communion will be observed by the Christ Lutheran church of Aspers at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning.

To Relocate Road Near Emmitsburg

One of the most dangerous curves on U. S. Route 15, between Gettysburg and Frederick, a curve located about a mile south of Emmitsburg, is scheduled for elimination in the near future, it was learned today.

Maryland State Roads Commission sources disclosed that a small section of the main highway will be relocated to eliminate the curve, which is an almost 90-degree turn. Commission employees will carry out the relocation themselves and it is expected the project will get under way this fall.

The cooperation of St. Joseph college at Emmitsburg is making the relocation possible, it was announced. College authorities have made available for the road work a right-of-way through land adjacent to the curve.

The relocation, it is understood, will start a short distance south of the curve and pass over new location, reconnecting with Route 15 at the southern end of the bridge over Toms Creek on the south approach to Emmitsburg.

The relocation will provide no impediment to Route 15 traffic while the work progresses. It is understood a 24-foot-wide macadam stretch will be built.

Philip Tyson won first award in a contest held by the Gettysburg Photographic society at its meeting in science hall at Gettysburg college Friday night.

The contest was held for prints made from pictures taken during two field trips held by the society during the summer. Second award went to Maurice Stoops, third to David Garfinkle and fourth to Edward Stine.

Much of the evening was spent in taking a head and shoulders view of one person, utilizing various lighting arrangements. Next meeting of the organization will be October 20 at the home of Maurice Stoops.

"Born Yesterday" To Run Two Weeks

Robert DeCost, whose last appearance was as the wanderlust son in "Glass Menagerie," will be seen as Paul Verrall, a writer, in Director Richard North Gate's production of Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday," opening a two-week engagement at the Boiling Springs straw-hat theater Monday evening.

The role of Billie Dawn, which Judy Holliday handled on Broadway, will be done by Dottie Bauer, who made her Allenberry debut in "Boy Meets Girl."

As Harry Brock, an arrogant junk man, the characterization which Paul Douglas made famous on Broadway, Director Gage has cast David Brubaker, one of Allenberry's most popular players. Brubaker will be seen as an overbearing sort of person who believes his dollars will buy him anything he desires. Paul Moser makes his Allenberry debut, playing Senator Norval Hedges, with Lorraine Bagley, popular character actress, being cast as his wife.

"Born Yesterday" recently closed a four-year run on Broadway and is presently being made into a movie with Paul Douglas and Judy Holliday, the New York stars, in the top roles.

Two Injured When Mail Truck Upsets

Two 29-year-old men were injured Friday morning when the truck in which they were riding overturned on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg highway four miles north of Gettysburg after the left front tire blew out. George Zart, Enhaut, and Clarence R. Shartzler, Steelton, were treated at the Warner hospital for lacerations of the forehead.

State police of the Gettysburg detail said the truck in which the two were riding was hauling mail to Gettysburg when the mishap occurred. The truck ran off the left side of the highway and overturned after striking a low embankment. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $50.

Warriors Top Westminster 13-6 In Opening Game Friday

Gettysburg high school's football team scored twice in the second quarter and then fought off a furious second half rally by the rugged Westminster high eleven to earn a 13-6 victory in the opening game of the season here Friday evening before approximately 2,500 fans.

Dominating play throughout the first half, the Warriors were forced to yield the honors to the invaders throughout the entire last half when the Owls were on the attack most of the time.

The Warriors' first touchdown came on a 14-yard scamper around right end Bob Miller on the first play of the second period. The drive was instituted midway in the first period when Gettysburg took possession on its own 23 through a punt by Bowersox.

The Miller boys, Bob and Dick, Bill Williams and Bill Singley reeled off a pair of first downs on line plays and then Singley fired a pass to Dick Harris for a first down on the visitors' 33. An off-side penalty and a breakthrough by a Westminster tackle cost the locals 12 yards. Singley then heaved an aerial to Wayne Tonsel who reached the 14 as the quarter ended. Bob Miller then raced around end for a score as the second period started. "Soapy" Davis' placement attempt was blocked by C. Barriock.

Davis Intercepts
Late in the second quarter several exchanges of punts swept Westminster deep in its own territory. With but a half minute remaining, Bowersox attempted to get off a flat pass which was intercepted by "Soapy" Davis who streaked 25 yards to tally. Davis added the point on a placement.

A rejuvenated Westminster team trotted onto the field in the second half and the Warriors were on the defense throughout.

An exchange of fumbles in the early moments of the third quarter gave the Owls the ball on Gettysburg 39 from where the big Westminster backs battered their way downfield for a score. Lee, Settle and Bowersox bore the brunt of the attack which put the ball on the 12-yard line and a first down. Lee picked up two yards at left end and on the next play went the distance. A flock of Warrior linesmen broke through to block the kick for the holder after a bad pass from center.

Halted By Fumble
Midway in the last period Westminster was again on the move and reeled off three straight first downs to reach the 25. On the next play the Warriors recovered a fumble on the 21, which was followed by a 15-yard penalty against the invaders for rough play.

Gettysburg could get nowhere and and Williams got off a short kick to the Owls' 47. Bowersox then whipped a passing to Lee on the Gettysburg 41. The Warriors braced and on last down Bowersox kicked into the end zone with but a minute of play remaining.

The Warriors ejected to punt out on the first play with Williams' boot rolling to the Owls' 35. Bowersox could not get off an intended pass and ran to near midfield as the game ended.

Westminster's husky aggregation outgained the Warriors' nine first downs to six. The locals completed two of three passes while Westminster connected on seven of 12, one of which was intercepted.

The 1950 Warrior edition gave a particularly impressive performance in the first half but bogged down somewhat in the second half. Westminster's big pound advantage, particularly in the backfield, took its toll in the second half after the local outfit had completely bottled their foe's attack in the first half.

Delone Here Friday
All of the Warrior participants put up nice games and gave much promise of developing into a first class outfit. It is extremely unlikely the team will be called upon to meet a team physically as large as were the Owls.

Next Friday the Warriors tangle with Delone Catholic here.

Eastern League
(By The Associated Press)
The unpredictable Albany Senators, in their home park and with their pitchers rested, hope to blast the Binghamton Senators tonight and take a one-game lead in their semi-final, Eastern league playoff.

The first semi-final tussle in Albany was rained out last night. But the weatherman predicted clear skies tonight. The clubs are squared away with game apiece in their best-of-seven series.

In the league's other semi-final schedule, the Wilkes-Barre Indians, leading the Hartford Chiefs 2-1 in games, return to Pennsylvania today, where they will play the Chiefs tomorrow afternoon.

The Chiefs came out of their hitting doldrums last night to pound four Indian hurlers for 17 hits and win the third game of the series, 11-6. Wilkes-Barre had taken the first two.

Hartford rolled up all their runs in the first five innings and coasted to the victory.

LITTLESTOWN GRIDDERS LOSE TO FREDERICK

The Littlestown high football team played the favored Frederick high gridders to a standstill in the first half but weakened in the last two periods to drop a 21-0 decision Friday evening in Frederick.

Frederick scored its initial touchdown in the third quarter when Teyeryar streaked around end and raced 35 yards for a score. Shipley added the first of his three extra points on a placement boot.

Debaugh and Fuchs each tallied in the final quarter for the Cadets.

Both teams took to the air nine times, the Thunderbolts completing two while Frederick made good on four. Frederick piled up a total of 22 first downs while Littlestown earned 11.

The defeat was the second in as many starts for the Adams counties. Next Saturday they meet the strong Scotland school outfit at Scotland.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Sept. 16 (AP)—For years it has been a tradition that the National league had the close pennant races and a tussle like the current one among the Yankees, Tigers and Red Sox is something unusual in the American. . . . It ain't exactly so. . . . You can get clear to 1906, when Chicago's celebrated "Hitless Wonders" put on a 19-game winning streak in September, and find a full share of thrills in American league races. . . . Take 1908, when the Cubs-Giants post-season playoff after the "Merkle Incident" overshadowed all other doings. The Tigers didn't beat out the White Sox for a pennant until the last day of the season. . . . The Red Sox won by a single game in 1915; Cleveland, Chicago and New York finished within three games in 1920 and the 1922 Yanks just nosed out the Browns by a game. . . . The idea of lopsided races probably grew up with the mighty Yankee and Athletic teams of the 1920's and 30's. . . . But—

THE EXCEPTION
The 1923 Yankees got to thinking they were too good, and the result was a real thriller of a finish. . . . At one time the Yanks led by 17 games, then they frittered away their margin until the Athletics moved ahead on Sept. 8. . . . Miller Huggins' mighty men wouldn't stand for that; they licked the A's in a doubleheader the next day and managed to stay in front until they clinched the pennant two days before the season ended. . . . And at that, they were a day ahead of the Cardinals, who had a battle with the Giants to the end of the National league race.

The climax came, of course, in 1948 when three clubs were tied for first nine days before the race.

MODERN HISTORY
Since 1944 tight pennant races have been the rule in the younger big league but the climax came, of course, in 1948 when three clubs were tied for first nine days before the season ended and two of them, Cleveland and Boston, still were tied at the finish. . . . It isn't hard to remember that first American league playoff game when rookie Gene Bearden pitched superbly with only one day's rest; when Joe McCarthy's gamble on pitching 36-year-old Denny Galehouse failed and when Indian manager Lou Boudreau, whom boss Bill Veech had tried to trade, belted four straight hits, two home runs, to lead the way to an 8-3 triumph. . . . Last year almost brought another tie when Boston climbing from a seventh place spring standing, moved ahead of the crippled Yanks with two days to go. Then the New Yorkers won out by belting over those same Red Sox in the last two games. . . . And, gosh, look at them now with only two weeks to go!

Philadelphia, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics have signed Robert Yeakey, outfielder-first baseman from Coopersburg, Pa. Arthur H. Ehlers, the A's farm director, said yesterday the 19-year-old rookie will report to the A's farm at Lincoln, Neb., next spring.

CANNERS TRIP TORNADO 18-13 FOR 2ND WIN

Two sustained drives and a long run by Joe Walde gave Biglerville high school's football team the margin of victory over Waynesboro, whose two touchdowns came in the final frame via the air, in an 18 to 13 contest played Friday evening on the loser's field.

The Canners staged a 97-yard sustained drive in the second frame and fought their way 64 yards to the final stripe on a sustained drive in the last quarter. Joe Walde broke loose on a 76-yard scamper in the second stanza.

Both of Waynesboro's scores were set up by fumbles and executed by the pass combination of Stutely to Miller. Both six-pointers came as Stutely heaved to Miller waiting in the end zone.

Biglerville powered its way to 14 first downs and Waynesboro moved for nine first downs. The Canners tried two passes, completing one while the Waynesboro lads attempted 20 passes, completing six, with one interception.

Biglerville was penalized three times, the Tornado twice. The Canners lost the ball three times on fumbles, two of which were costly.

On fourth down midway in the first period, Stutely booted the ball out of bounds on the Biglerville 3-yard line. And from here the Canners moved 97 yards downfield on a sustained drive to score.

Rice, on third down, plunged to the 16 for a first down with a quarterback sneak. Lawver picked up seven yards around end, Rice made a yard on a quarterback sneak, and then Warner cracked through for a first down to the 26 as the second quarter started. Three plays later he slammed to the 38 for another first. On second down Walde took a hand-off from Rice and powered his way to the 49 and a first down. On second down again a pass, Rice to Lawver, was good to the Waynesboro 33. Then Lawver cracked off the Waynesboro right side and dashed all the way along the sideline for the first touchdown of the game. Rice had no chance to kick the extra point as he was smothered by Waynesboro players.

Waynesboro received the kick-off and moved for two first downs to the Biglerville 46 yard line. Its passing attack bogged down and Waynesboro was forced to kick. Walde returned the ball to the 24, thus setting the stage for his own 76 yard touchdown run on the very next play as he slammed off the Waynesboro right side on a naked reverse and was all alone much of the route. Again Rice had no chance for the extra point.

As the third quarter opened Waynesboro received and got nowhere. The Canners took over and moved for two first downs to the Waynesboro 41 on a smash by Warner and fourth down quarterback sneak by Rice. Then a Biglerville fumble was recovered by Waynesboro on its own 46 and the stage was set for the first Waynesboro tally. A pushing penalty gave Waynesboro a first down on the Biglerville 46. On third down a pass, Stutely to Shank, was good for a first down to the 28. Another 15-yard penalty gave Waynesboro a first on the 15. Stutely slammed to the 5 as the quarter ended.

On fourth down Stutely found Miller waiting in the end zone and hit him with a touchdown pass. An extra point pass was incomplete.

Biglerville's Walde returned the kick-off to his own 36 yard line and at this point another sustained touchdown drive began for the Canners. Walde cracking the Waynesboro line from the 5 for a score. Rice's extra point kick was wide.

Waynesboro received and moved for a first. Then three passes were incomplete and Waynesboro kicked. Rice, on third down picked up a first down as he went to the 36 on a quarterback sneak. Then the Canners fumbled and Waynesboro recovered the ball only 12 yards from the Biglerville goal line. A pass, Stutely to Miller, was good for a TD. Stutely then made the only conversion of the game.

PHILLIES WIN IN 19 INNINGS AGAINST REDS

By WILL GRIMSLEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The Philadelphia Phillies all but wrapped up the National league pennant today with one of the greatest displays of fighting spirit in baseball history.

For the record book, the scores of a doubleheader that started at 6 p.m. (EDT) last night and wound up at 1 a.m. were the Phillies 2, Cincinnati Reds 1, and the Phillies 9, Cincinnati 7—but those are merely cold figures.

The second game went 19 innings, the longest game of the season.

By winning the doubleheader the Phils stretched their first-place margin to seven and one-half games over Brooklyn. Now, any combination of 11 Philadelphia victories or Brooklyn defeats will give the Phils their first pennant since 1915.

Trained 5-0 In Seventh
When the Phils came to bat in the last of the seventh in the second game, they found themselves trailing 5-0. Most of the fans had given the game up for lost but perked up when the Phils scored twice off Howard Fox in that inning and added another in the eighth, sending Fox to the showers.

In the ninth with one on and one out, pinch hitter Stan Holmigg and Granny Hamner hit consecutive doubles to tie the game, send the crowd of 20,673 into a frenzy and bring in Herm Wehmeier, the Reds' third pitcher.

The game then settled down to a splendid pitching duel between Wehmeier and the Phils' Jim Konstanty, making his 66th relief appearance of the year.

Tied Again In 18th
In the 18th, after nine innings of shutout ball, Konstanty weakened and walked three Cincinnati batters. Ted Kluszewski's rap barely eluded Hamner's grasp to go for a single and drive in two runs.

The fans started for the exits, but stopped in the aisles as Del Ennis led off for the Phils with a double, moved to third on Dick Sisler's single and scored on Hamner's fly. Then, reserve catcher Stan Lopata tripled and the score was tied again.

Not to be denied, the Phils came back in the 19th against Eddie Ewart, who entered the game when Wehmeier was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Eddie Waitkus singled, Richie Ashburn beat out a bunt, Willie Jones walked and Ennis slammed a pitch off the left field wall. The game was over.

Ted Williams Homers
Baseball's lean hitting perfectionist, Ted Williams, is back on the firing line for the Boston Red Sox, forcing a brand new appraisal of the neck-and-neck American league pennant race.

The willowy slugger, out of regular action since July 11, may provide just the impetus needed for Steve O'Neill's old pros to overhaul Detroit and New York in the mad dash down the stretch.

Williams' big bat boomed like old times yesterday. He smashed a three-run homer and three singles to crack an eight-game winning streak of the upstart St. Louis Browns, 12-9, and to move Boston within 1½ games of first-place Detroit. Boston's half-step up the ladder was aided by developments at Detroit where the Tigers, behind the excellent relief pitching of the veteran Hank Borowy, turned back the New York Yankees, 9-7, to level this top-drawer series at a game apiece.

3 Homers by Mize
Big John Mize of the Yankees poled three home runs in New York's losing effort at Detroit and broke his own major league record for the number of times the feat has been turned in a single game. He has now hit three home runs on six occasions.

Plate Umpire Dusty Boggess twice reversed himself on a play at home at Ebbetts Field, causing the Brooklyn Dodgers to protest their 6-2 loss to St. Louis.

In other National league games, the Boston Braves whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-4, and the Chicago Cubs beat the New York Giants in 10 innings, 4-3.

In the American, Cleveland split a doubleheader with Washington, winning the first, 4-2, but losing the second, 4-1. The eighth-place Philadelphia Athletics beat the Chicago White Sox, 4-1.

Bubba Church May Be Lost To Phils

Philadelphia, Sept. 16 (AP)—Young Bubba Church, victim of a wicked smash to the face by a batted ball, may be lost to the Philadelphia Phillies for the rest of the season. He is to undergo plastic surgery today.

Church, who turned 25 Tuesday, is a fast-balling right-handed pitcher with an 8-4 record and one of the leading candidates for rookie of the year in the National league.

Facing the Cincinnati Reds last night in the first game of a doubleheader, Church was pitching to Ted Kluszewski in the third inning when tragedy struck. Kluszewski slammed a pitch right at Church's head.

HANOVER HALTS LONG STREAK OF DELONE 11

Hanover high school handed Delone Catholic a 20-12 defeat at McSherrystown Friday evening, the defeat marking the first for the Delone gridders since the Nighthawks turned the trick in the opening game in 1948.

The Squires had been unbeaten in 20 games since their loss in 1948, only a tie marring their record.

Hanover capitalized on two fumbles for their initial scores. In the first period Rhodes recovered a Squire fumble on the Hanover 15 and four successive first downs put the ball on the Delone 25 from where Fuhrman raced over on a reverse. Shortly afterwards Hanover was stopped on the Squires' 1-yard mark but pounced on a fumble on the five from where Kane raced around left end to tally.

Delone tallied in the third period and each team scored in the final round.

Next Friday the Squires will come here to meet the Gettysburg high Warriors.

Interstate League

Hagerstown, Md., Sept. 16 (AP)—The Wilmington Blue Rocks go into the third game of the Interstate league governor's cup series tonight two up on the Hagerstown Braves.

The pennant-winning Blue Rocks made it two straight over the runner-up Braves last night with a 4-2 decision behind the effective six-hit hurling of Dick Smullen.

The next three games, if all are necessary, will be played here. Then, if the issue is not settled, the scene will shift back to Wilmington for the conclusion of the series.

Smullen, who dropped two decisions to the Braves during the regular season, had only one bad inning. An error and a double by Jack Pottenger sent Hagerstown's two runs across in the second. The Wilmington hurler gave up only three hits the remainder of the game and in one stretch retired 16 successive batters.

Ed Waytula drove in the Rocks' first run in the fifth and Manager Skeeter Newsome sent two more across in the same frame with a single. Dan Schell's second two-bagger of the game produced the only tally in the eighth.

Estimates Differ On Steel Needs

Philadelphia, Sept. 16 (AP)—The administration's estimate of defense needs for steel is only one-third of what the steel industry believes necessary for "safety's sake," says Benjamin F. Fairless.

The U. S. Steel Corp. president also believes demands of the steel industry for defense production ultimately will have an effect on production of automobiles, refrigerators and other appliances.

In the first comprehensive survey of the steel situation by an industry spokesman since the Korean war, Fairless said last night that by next July civilian consumption of steel might be cut by one-eighth. He spoke at the annual dinner of the Philadelphia chapter of the National Association of Purchasing Agents.

The "Big Steel" spokesman challenged those who say the present steel shortage indicates the industry has not lived up to its national responsibilities.

THE STORY OF TEN LITTLE FREE WORKERS

THESE ARE THE WORKERS

REDDY DOCTOR RAILROADER MINER STEELWORKER FARMER LAWYER GROCER SALESLER REPORTER

Ten little free workers in this country fine and fair.
But if you cherish your freedom—worker have a care!
Ten little free workers—Reddy was doing fine
Until the socialists got him—then there were nine.

Nine little free workers laughed at Reddy's fate
Along came federal medicine—then there were eight.

Eight little free workers thought this country heaven
But the government took over the railroads, then there were seven.

Seven little free workers—till the miners got in a fix
Uncle said coal's essential and took over leaving six.

Six little free workers till the day did arrive
The steel mills, too, were federalized—then there were five.

Five little free workers—but the farmers are free no more
The farms have been collectivized—that leaves only four.

Four little free workers till the government did decree
All must have free legal advice—then there were three.

Three little free workers—the number is getting few,
But with government groceries selling food—then there were two.

Two little free workers—our story's almost done,
With clerks at work in federal stores—that leaves only one.

One little free worker—the reporter son-of-a-gun
Mustn't criticize government—so now there are none.

Ten little workers—but they are no longer free
They work when and where ordered, and at a fixed rate you see,
And it all could have been prevented if they'd only seen fit to agree
And work together instead of saying "it never can happen to me!"

Warriors Top Westminster 13-6 In Opening Game Friday

Gettysburg high school's football team scored twice in the second quarter and then fought off a furious second half rally by the rugged Westminster high eleven to earn a 13-6 victory in the opening game of the season here Friday evening before approximately 2,500 fans.

Dominating play throughout the first half, the Warriors were forced to yield the honors to the invaders throughout the entire last half when the Owls were on the attack most of the time.

The Warriors' first touchdown came on a 14-yard scamper around right end Bob Miller on the first play of the second period. The drive was instituted midway in the first period when Gettysburg took possession on its own 23 through a punt by Bowersox.

The Miller boys, Bob and Dick, Bill Williams and Bill Singley reeled off a pair of first downs on line plays and then Singley fired a pass to Dick Harrier for a first down on the visitors' 33. An off-side penalty and a breakthrough by a Westminster tackler cost the locals 12 yards. Singley then heaved an aerial to Wayne Tonsel who reached the 14 as the quarter ended. Bob Miller then raced around end for a score as the second period started. "Soapy" Davis' placement attempt was blocked by C. Barrick.

Davis Intercepts
Late in the second quarter several exchanges of punts swept Westminster deep in its own territory. With but a half minute remaining, Bowersox attempted to get off a flat pass which was intercepted by "Soapy" Davis who streaked 25 yards to tally. Davis added the point on a placement.

A rejuvenated Westminster team trotted onto the field in the second half and the Warriors were on the defense throughout.

An exchange of fumbles in the early moments of the third quarter gave the Owls the ball on Gettysburg 39 from where the big Westminster backs battered their way downfield for a score. Lee, Settle and Bowersox bore the brunt of the attack which put the ball on the 12-yard line and a first down. Lee picked up two yards at left end and on the next play went the distance. A flock of Warrior linesmen broke through to block the kick for the point which was fumbled by the holder after a bad pass from center.

Halted By Fumble
Midway in the last period Westminster was again on the move and reeled off three straight first downs to reach the 25. On the next play the Warriors recovered a fumble on the 21, which was followed by a 15-yard penalty against the invaders for rough play.

Gettysburg could get nowhere and Williams got off a short kick to the Owls' 47. Bowersox then whipped a passing to Lee on the Gettysburg 41. The Warriors braced and on last down Bowersox kicked into the end zone with but a minute of play remaining.

The Warriors elected to punt out on the first play with Williams' boot rolling to the Owls' 35. Bowersox could not get off an intended pass and ran to near midfield as the game ended.

Westminster's husky aggregation outgained the Warriors' nine first downs to six. The locals completed two of three passes while Westminster connected on seven of 12, one of which was intercepted.

The 1950 Warrior edition gave a particularly impressive performance in the first half but bogged down somewhat in the second half. Westminster's big pound advantage, particularly in the backfield, took its toll in the second half after the local outfit had completely bottled their foe's attack in the first half.

Delone Here Friday
All of the Warrior participants put up nice games and gave much promise of developing into a first class outfit. It is extremely unlikely the team will be called upon to meet a team physically as large as were the Owls.

Next Friday the Warriors tangle with Delone Catholic here.

Browns And Eagles To Battle Tonight

Philadelphia, Sept. 16 (AP)—The unusual picture of two teams fighting for a championship on opening day will be unfolded tonight when the Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles match football speed, brawn and brains.

True, it's only a mythical title these teams will be battling for before an anticipated 75,000 fans at Municipal stadium, but it will be real enough for the players. They understand that the winner will be recognized universally as world's professional football champion.

This opener of the 31st National Football league season brings together for the first time the Eagles, two-time winners of the NFL title, and the Browns, four-year champions of the defunct All-American conference. For tonight's game (at 7:45 p.m., Eastern Standard time), the weatherman forecast fair weather with temperature in the low 70s.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The unpredictable Albany Senators, in their home park and with their pitchers rested, hope to blast the Binghamton Senators tonight and take a one-game lead in their semi-final, Eastern league playoff. The first semi-final tussle in Albany was rained out last night. But the weatherman predicted clear skies tonight. The clubs are squared away with game apiece in their best-of-seven series.

In the league's other semi-final schedule, the Wilkes-Barre Indians, leading the Hartford Chiefs 2-1 in games, return to Pennsylvania today, where they will play the Chiefs tomorrow afternoon.

The Chiefs came out of their hitting doldrums last night to pound four Indian hurlers for 17 hits and win the third game of the series, 11-6. Wilkes-Barre had taken the first two.

Hartford rolled up all their runs in the first five innings and coasted to the victory.

LITTLESTOWN GRIDDERS LOSE TO FREDERICK

The Littlestown high football team played the favored Frederick high gridders to a standstill in the first half but weakened in the last two periods to drop a 21-0 decision Friday evening in Frederick.

Frederick scored its initial touchdown in the third quarter when Tyeryar streaked around end and raced 35 yards for a score. Shipley added the first of his three extra points on a placement boot.

Bebaugh and Fuchs each tallied in the final quarter for the Cadets.

Both teams took to the air nine times, the Thunderbolts completing two while Frederick made good on four. Frederick piled up a total of 22 first downs while Littlestown earned 11.

The defeat was the second in as many starts for the Adams counties. Next Saturday they meet the strong Scotland school outfit at Scotland.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 16 (AP)—For years it has been a tradition that the National league had the close pennant races and a tussle like the current one among the Yankees, Tigers and Red Sox is something unusual in the American. . . . You can go clear to 1906, when Chicago's celebrated "Hitless Wonders" put on a 19-game winning streak in September, and find a full share of thrills in American league races. . . . Take 1908, when the Cubs-Giants post-season playoff after the "Merkle Incident" overshadowed all other doings. The Tigers didn't beat out the White Sox for a pennant until the last day of the season. . . . The Red Sox won by a single game in 1915; Cleveland, Chicago and New York finished within three games in 1920 and the 1922 Yanks just nosed out the Browns by a game. . . . The idea of lopsided races probably grew up with the mighty Yankee and Athletic teams of the 1920's and 30's. . . . But—

THE EXCEPTION

The 1928 Yankees got to thinking they were too good, and the result was a real thriller of a finish. . . . At one time the Yanks led by 17 games, then they frittered away their margin until the Athletics moved ahead on Sept. 8. . . . Miller Huggins' mighty men wouldn't stand for that; they licked the A's in a doubleheader the next day and managed to stay in front until they clinched the pennant two days before the season ended. . . . And at that, they were a day ahead of the Cardinals, who had a battle with the Giants to the end of the National league race.

The climax came, of course, in 1948 when three clubs were tied for first nine days before the race.

MODERN HISTORY

Since 1944 tight pennant races have been the rule in the younger big league but the climax came, of course, in 1948 when three clubs were tied for first nine days before the season ended and two of them, Cleveland and Boston, still were tied at the finish. . . . It isn't hard to remember that first American league playoff game when rookie Gene Bearden pitched superbly with only one day's rest; when Joe McCarthy's gamble on pitching 36-year-old Denny Galehouse failed and when Indian manager Lou Boudreau, whom boss Bill Veech had tried to trade, belted four straight hits, two home runs, to lead the way to an 8-3 triumph. . . . Last year almost brought another tie when Boston climbed from a seventh place spring standing, moved ahead of the crippled Yanks with two days to go. Then the New Yorkers went off by belting over those same Red Sox in the last two games. . . . And gosh, look at them now with only two weeks to go!

CANNERS TRIP TORNADO 18-13 FOR 2ND WIN

Two sustained drives and a long run by Joe Walde gave Biglerville high school's football team the margin of victory over Waynesboro, whose two touchdowns came in the final frame via the air, in an 18 to 13 contest played Friday evening on the loser's field.

The Canners staged a 97-yard sustained drive in the second frame and fought their way 64 yards to the final stripe on a sustained drive in the last quarter. Joe Walde broke loose on a 76-yard scamper in the second stanza.

Both of Waynesboro's scores were set up by fumbles and executed by the pass combination of Stutely to Miller. Both six-pointers came as Stutely heaved to Miller waiting in the end zone.

Biglerville powered its way to 14 first downs and Waynesboro moved for nine first downs. The Canners tried two passes, completing one while the Waynesboro lads attempted 20 passes, completing six, with one interception.

Biglerville was penalized three times, the Tornado twice. The Canners lost the ball three times on fumbles, two of which were costly. On fourth down midway in the first period, Stully booted the ball out of bounds on the Biglerville 3-yard line. And from here the Canners moved 97 yards downfield on a sustained drive to score.

Rice, on third down, plunged to the 16 for a first down with a quarterback sneak. Lawver picked up seven yards around end. Rice made a yard on a quarterback sneak, and then Warner cracked through for a first down to the 26 as the second quarter started. Three plays later he slammed to the 38 for another first. On second down Walde took a hand-off from Rice and powered his way to the 49 and a first down. On second down again a pass, Rice to Lawver, was good to the Waynesboro 33. Then Lawver cracked off the Waynesboro right side and dashed all the way along the sideline for the first touchdown of the game. Rice had no chance to kick the extra point as he was smothered by Waynesboro players.

Waynesboro received the kick-off and moved for two first downs to the Biglerville 46 yard line. Its passing attack bogged down and Waynesboro was forced to kick. Walde returned the ball to the 24, thus setting the stage for his own 76 yard touchdown run on the very next play as he slammed off the Waynesboro right side on a naked reverse and was all alone much of the route. Again Rice had no chance for the extra point.

As the third quarter opened Waynesboro received and got nowhere. The Canners took over and moved for two first downs to the Waynesboro 41 on a smash by Warner and fourth down quarterback sneak by Rice. Then a Biglerville fumble was recovered by Waynesboro on its own 46 and the stage was set for the first Waynesboro tally. A pushing penalty gave Waynesboro a first down on the Biglerville 46. On third down a pass, Stutely to Shank, was good for a first down to the 28. Another 15-yard penalty gave Waynesboro a first on the 15. Stully slammed to the 5 as the quarter ended.

On fourth down Stutely found Miller waiting in the end zone and hit him with a touchdown pass. An extra point pass was incomplete.

Biglerville's Walde returned the kick-off to his own 36 yard line and at this point another sustained touchdown drive began for the Canners. Walde cracking the Waynesboro line from the 5 for a score. Rice's extra point kick was wide.

Waynesboro received and moved for a first. Then three passes were incomplete and Waynesboro kicked. Rice, on third down picked up a first down as he went to the 36 on a quarterback sneak. Then the Canners fumbled and Waynesboro recovered the ball only 12 yards from the Biglerville goal line. A pass, Stutely to Miller, was good for a TD. Stully then made the only conversion of the game.

PHILLIES WIN IN 19 INNINGS AGAINST REDS

By WILL GRIMSLEY (Associated Press Sports Writer)
The Philadelphia Phillies all but wrapped up the National league pennant today with one of the greatest displays of fighting spirit in baseball history.

For the record book, the scores of a doubleheader that started at 6 p.m. (EDT) last night and wound up at 1 a.m. were the Phillies 2, Cincinnati Reds 1, and the Phillies 8, Cincinnati 7—but those are merely cold figures.

The second game went 19 innings, the longest game of the season.

By winning the doubleheader the Phils stretched their first-place margin to seven and one-half games over Brooklyn. Now, any combination of 11 Philadelphia victories or Brooklyn defeats will give the Phils their first pennant since 1915.

Trained 5-0 In Seventh

When the Phils came to bat in the last of the seventh in the second game, they found themselves trailing 5-0. Most of the fans had given the game up for lost but perked up when the Phils scored twice off Howard Fox in that inning and added another in the eighth, sending Fox to the showers.

In the ninth with one on and one out, pinch hitter Stan Holmigg and Granny Hamner hit consecutive doubles to tie the game, send the crowd of 20,673 into a frenzy and bring in Herm Wehmeier, the Reds' third pitcher.

The game then settled down to a splendid pitching duel between Wehmeier and the Phils' Jim Konstanty, making his 66th relief appearance of the year.

Tied Again In 18th

In the 18th, after nine innings of shutout ball, Konstanty weakened and walked three Cincinnati batters. Ted Kluszewski's rap barely eluded Hamner's grasp to go for a single and drive in two runs.

The fans started for the exits, but stopped in the aisles as Del Ennis led off for the Phils with a double, moved to third on Dick Sisler's single and scored on Hamner's fly. Then, reserve catcher Stan Lopata tripled and the score was tied again. Not to be denied, the Phils came back in the 19th against Eddie Erazo, who entered the game when Wehmeier was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Eddie Waitkus singled, Richie Ashburn beat out a bunt, Willie Jones walked and Ennis slammed a pitch off the left field wall. The game was over.

Ted Williams Homers
Baseball's best hitting perfectionist, Ted Williams, is back on the firing line for the Boston Red Sox, forcing a brand new appraisal of the neck-and-neck American league pennant race.

The willowy slugger, out of regular action since July 11, may provide just the impetus needed for Steve O'Neill's old pros to overhaul Detroit and New York in the mad dash down the stretch.

Williams' big bat boomed like old times yesterday. He smashed a three-run homer and three singles to crack an eight-game winning streak of the upstart St. Louis Browns, 12-9, and to move Boston within 1 1/2 games of first-place Detroit. Boston's half-step up the ladder was aided by developments at Detroit where the Tigers, behind the excellent relief pitching of the veteran Hank Borowy, turned back the New York Yankees, 9-7, to level this top-drawer series at a game apiece.

3 Homers for Mize

Big John Mize of the Yankees poled three home runs in New York's losing effort at Detroit and broke his own major league record for the number of times the feat has been turned in a single game. He has now hit three home runs on six occasions.

Plate Umpire Dusty Boggess twice reversed himself on a play at home at Ebbetts Field, causing the Brooklyn Dodgers to protest their 6-2 loss to St. Louis.

In other National league games, the Boston Braves whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-4, and the Chicago Cubs beat the New York Giants in 10 innings, 4-3.

In the American, Cleveland split a doubleheader with Washington, winning the first, 4-2, but losing the second, 4-1. The eighth-place Philadelphia Athletics beat the Chicago White Sox, 4-1.

Bubba Church May Be Lost To Phils

Philadelphia, Sept. 16 (AP)—Young Bubba Church, victim of a wicked smash to the face by a batted ball, may be lost to the Philadelphia Phillies for the rest of the season. He is to undergo plastic surgery today.

Church, who turned 25 Tuesday, is a fast-balling right-handed pitcher with an 8-4 record and one of the leading candidates for rookie of the year in the National league.

Pacing the Cincinnati Reds last night in the first game of a doubleheader, Church was pitching to Ted Kluszewski in the third inning when tragedy struck. Kluszewski slammed a pitch right at Church's head.

HANOVER HALTS LONG STREAK OF DELONE 11

Hanover high school handed Delone Catholic a 20-12 defeat at McSherrystown Friday evening, the defeat marking the first for the Delone gridders since the Nighthawks turned the trick in the opening game in 1948.

The Squires had been unbeaten in 20 games since their loss in 1948, only a tie marring their record.

Hanover capitalized on two fumbles for their initial scores. In the first period Rhodes recovered a Squire fumble on the Hanover 15 and four successive first downs put the ball on the Delone 25 from where Fuhrman raced over on a reverse. Shortly afterwards Hanover was stopped on the Squires' 1-yard mark but pounced

Littlestown
STORES OPEN
MONDAY NIGHT

The stores of Littlestown will continue to remain open on Monday evenings, according to a decision reached at a special meeting of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, held Thursday evening in the fire hall. During the month of August and this past Monday the stores were closed on Monday evenings as a trial. There had been agitation for continued Monday night closing, but as a result of Thursday night's meeting, it was decided that the stores should continue to remain open Monday evenings.

Theron W. Spangler, reporting for the football fund, stated that in addition to the Chamber of Commerce, the Littlestown Rotary club, Mason and Dison Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, and the Ocker Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, had contributed to the fund thus far.

Plan Christmas Lights

Charles Rittner, who is in charge of the Pennsylvania Week celebration, gave a preliminary report on plans and activities to date.

A Christmas decorating committee, consisting of W. H. Dorn, Clarence L. Schwartz and Chester S. Byers, was appointed by the president. It was also decided that the stores will remain open on Armistice Day since it falls on a Saturday.

President Samuel H. Hignbotham in charge of the meeting and E. Paul Bigelow gave the secretary's report. The next meeting of the group will be at the call of the president.

Prof. Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown school jointure, and H. Dean Stover, of the high school faculty, attended a Laurel league football conference at New Freedom on Wednesday evening. The next meeting will be a dinner meeting at Schottie's, Littlestown, on November 15.

Mehring Rites

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the J. W. Little and son funeral home, Littlestown, for Mrs. Emma H. Mehning, 68, widow of Dr. John W. Mehning, fatally injured when her car hit a curb and stone wall in Penn township, and crashed into a parked automobile Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Mehning, who was active in church and community affairs, was returning from Lancaster at the time of the accident, where she had taken her grandson, Richard Mehning, who entered Franklin and Marshall college. Services will be in charge of her pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Interment will be in the Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown.

Those who will serve as pallbearers are Milton Elshe, Harvey W. Schwartz, Wilbur A. Banker, Luther D. Snyder, Stanley B. Stover and Luther W. Ritter.

The solemn closing of the Miraculous Medal novena, which began Sunday evening and was held every evening during the past week in St. Aloysius Catholic church, took place on Friday night. In addition to the usual order of service, the Rev. Fr. Francis Leddy, New York, of the Vincentian Priests of the Congregation of Missions, who inaugurated the novena and conducted the services, imparted the Papal blessing to those that attended the closing service.

Devotions in honor of "Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal" will be held each Sunday evening in St. Aloysius church.

three weeks after the tank-led Reds charged southward across parallel 28—and at a time when the North Koreans were pulverizing U. S. troops along the Kum river.

MacArthur said the big pincer movement would cause the Korean Red army to "disintegrate" sooner or later. MacArthur obviously gambled that Red China or Russia would not fight.

Another Red Blunder

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U. S. Eighth Army commander, told AP Correspondent Jack MacBeth that "It should be over quickly"—if the forces in front of him is all that's left of the Red Korean army.

The success of the Inchon landings was credited in large measure to the daring of six destroyers—and a blunder by the Reds.

AP Correspondent Reiman Morin reported that the destroyers—units of Task Force 77—were ordered to cruise slowly by Wolmi island which guards the entrance to Inchon harbor, to draw fire from shore positions.

The Red guns were silent for anxious minutes. Then they made the mistake of opening up on the "sitting ducks." This revealed their positions to the heavy guns of cruisers and carrier planes.

New Oxford

New Oxford — Vernon C. Rife, who had the tip of a finger amputated in an accident which occurred while he was working, is recuperating rapidly and is attending to his duties as usual although under a physician's care.

A group of members of the local Catholic parish made a trip by chartered bus on Sunday to Emmitsburg where they visited the tomb of Mother Seton, who became a Sister of Charity after her widowhood and was the foundress of the girl's school still functioning at Emmitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe, who have been making their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoff, near Pine Run, have moved to the Chester Shank place nearby. Mr. and Mrs. Shank have moved to Hampton.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Smith, Harrisburg, spent Tuesday with her sister, Miss Mae Adelaide Kuhn, Hanover, a guest at the Kuhn convalescent home east of town.

The recent block collection received for the benefit of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church was very gratifying according to report of the pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett.

C. K. Yeager, who has been very ill at his home for several months, is somewhat improved. Miss Mary Faye Sheffer, East Berlin, who was the registered nurse for Mr. Yeager, has left his case and is now doing state nursing work.

George Staub, near Pine Run, has been confined to his room by illness.

It has been reported that the enrollment at the local parochial school has reached 173, with 89 boys and 84 girls in the entire eight grades taught by the Sisters of Mercy.

A census of parishioners of the local Catholic church has been in progress this week by the pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, who has been visiting each family to obtain the desired information. Parishioners have been giving Father Hartnett contributions for the church's winter coal supply during these visits.

News Briefs

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 (AP)—If Pittsburgh is hit by an atomic bomb attack, many of the city's residents may be quartered in the limestone mines of nearby Butler county. So says Ross L. Loeffler, civil defense coordinator for the city and Allegheny county.

He told newsmen at a conference yesterday that the public, churches and schools will be asked to aid in finding more evacuee centers.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 (AP)—One polio death and three new cases are reported in western Pennsylvania. Eight-year-old Linda Layton of Pittsburgh died yesterday in Municipal hospital. It was the city's third death from the disease in 1950. Meadville reported its first case of the year—a 23-year-old woman and a 10-year-old girl. Both are light cases. They brought the Crawford county total to 14 this year.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 (AP)—John S. McMahon, 47, a former newspaperman who became one of the country's top exponents of industrial health programs, died of a heart attack in his office yesterday.

McMahon was with the Industrial Hygiene Foundation of Mellon Institute since 1936 and its managing director since 1942. He directed scientists, engineers and others in the development of health protection, accident prevention and medical services in industry.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 (AP)—Possibility of a strike in Westinghouse Electric corporation plants grew today as two major unions representing the bulk of 70,000 workers expressed deep dissatisfaction with an offer of an eight-cent-hourly wage hike.

The new CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) and the Independent United Electrical Workers (IUE) flatly rejected the offer.

The executive committee of the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Adams Electric cooperative building, to the rear of North Stratton street, Harry E. Brown, Fairfield, president of the executive committee, announced today.

Present at the meeting will be District Governor Carroll Dull and Deputy District Governor William Musser. At this meeting 100 per cent attendance will be the goal. Special music will be presented by the Upper Adams Lions barbershop quartet. In charge of arrangements for the meeting are Lions L. W. Kleinfelter, O. C. Rice, Jr., R. R. Starnier and Clyde Sell of the Attendance committee.

The Grace Yeiser Missionary society will meet on Monday evening at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Joseph Sabo.

Mrs. Clayton Starnier, her son, Myles, and daughter, Mrs. Edna Sowers, of Aspers, and Harold Ecker, Heidelsburg arrived Tuesday afternoon in Cambridge, Neb., to visit for a few days with Mrs. Starnier's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest tenBensel. The group left Sunday morning and will return next week.

The Eveready Sunday school class of the Arendtsville Reformed church will hold its September meeting in the social room of the church.

Election of officers will take place in the Bendersville Lutheran Sunday school on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Holy Communion will be observed by the Christ Lutheran church of Aspers at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning.

To Relocate Road Near Emmitsburg

One of the most dangerous curves on U. S. Route 15, between Gettysburg and Frederick, a curve located about a mile south of Emmitsburg, is scheduled for elimination in the near future, it was learned today.

Maryland State Roads Commission sources disclosed that a small section of the main highway will be relocated to eliminate the curve, which is an almost 90-degree turn. Commission employees will carry out the relocation themselves and it is expected the project will get under way this fall.

The cooperation of St. Joseph college at Emmitsburg is making the relocation possible, it was announced. College authorities have made available for the road work a right-of-way through land adjacent to the curve.

The relocation, it is understood, will start a short distance south of the curve and pass over new location, reconnecting with Route 15 at the southern end of the bridge over Toms Creek on the south approach to Emmitsburg.

The relocation will provide no impediment to Route 15 traffic while the work progresses. It is understood a 24-foot wide macadam stretch will be built.

Philip Tyson won first award in a contest held by the Gettysburg Photographic society at its meeting in science hall at Gettysburg college Friday night.

The contest was held for prints made from pictures taken during two field trips held by the society during the summer. Second award went to Maurice Stoops, third to David Garfinkle and fourth to Edward Stine.

Much of the evening was spent in taking a head and shoulders view of one person, utilizing various lighting arrangements. Next meeting of the organization will be October 20 at the home of Maurice Stoops.

"Born Yesterday" To Run Two Weeks

Robert DeCost, whose last appearance was as the wanderlust son in "Glass Menagerie," will be seen as Paul Verrall, a writer, in Director Richard North Gage's production of Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday," opening a two-week engagement at the Bolling Springs strawhat theater Monday evening.

The role of Billie Dawn, which Judy Holliday handed on Broadway, will be done by Dodie Bauer, who made her Allenberry debut in "Boy Meets Girl."

As Harry Brook, an arrogant junk man, the characterization which Paul Douglas made famous on Broadway, Director Gage has cast David Brubaker, one of Allenberry's most popular players. Brubaker will be seen as an overbearing sort of person who believes his dollars will buy him anything he desires. Paul Moser makes his Allenberry debut, playing Senator Norval Hedges, with Lorraine Bagley, popular character actress, being cast as his wife.

"Born Yesterday" recently closed a four-year run on Broadway and is presently being made into a movie with Paul Douglas and Judy Holliday, the New York stars, in the top roles.

Two Injured When Mail Truck Upsets

Two 29-year-old men were injured Friday morning when the truck in which they were riding overturned on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg highway four miles north of Gettysburg after the left front tire blew out.

George Zart, Enhaut, and Clarence R. Shartzler, Steelton, were treated at the Warner hospital for lacerations of the forehead. State police of the Gettysburg detail said the truck in which the two were riding was hauling mail to Gettysburg when the mishap occurred. The truck ran off the left side of the highway and overturned after striking a low embankment. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $50.

TEN YEARS AGO

1st Peace-Time Draft Bill Is Signed by F. D. R.: Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt will sign into law at 3 p.m. (EST) today the nation's first peace-time conscription bill.

Sells Property: Miss Maude Bream has sold her property at 124 Springs avenue to Earl M. Wineman, Center square, who will take possession October 1. Miss Bream will occupy a second floor apartment in the building.

Wentzel-Shue: Miss Alora Rheba Shue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sue S. Shue, of Biglerville, was united in marriage with William D. Wentzel, foster son of Mrs. C. B. Lindtweid, of Biglerville, in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Biglerville, at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. The Rev. H. W. Sternat officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Sterling S. Shue and was attended by her sister, Miss Mildred Shue. Little Miss Sylvia Warren was flower girl. John G. Lindtweid was best man. The ushers were Richard C. Warren and Harold W. Martenas.

Hoffman-Meadows: Paul B. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman, Taneytown road, and Miss Doris E. Meadows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Meadows, Philadelphia, were married on Thursday in the rectory of St. John's Catholic church, Westminster, Md., by the Rev. Father Kelly.

Bower-Bollinger: Miss Mary Jean Bollinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Bollinger, Emmitsburg, and Frederick B. Bower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bower, Taneytown, were married Saturday evening at 10 o'clock in Elias Lutheran church by the Rev. Philip Bower.

Miss Dorothy M. Bollinger was maid of honor and Richard S. Mehning was the best man. The couple will reside in Taneytown.

Bowers-Beard: Miss Bettys Jane Beard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beard, Gettysburg R. 2, and John C. Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Bowers, also of Gettysburg R. 2, were united in marriage Wednesday morning in Frederick by the Rev. A. M. Traver, pastor of a Lutheran church. Mr. Bowers is employed at the Gettysburg Furniture factory.

Krumrine-Bupp: Miss Arlene E. Bupp, Littlestown, and Claude L. Krumrine, Westminster, were united in marriage Saturday evening in St. Mary's Lutheran church, Silver Run.

The ceremony was performed by candlelight by the pastor, the Rev. W. E. Saltzger.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Pearl Feeser was maid of honor. Paul H. Krumrine, Jr., was best man.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bupp, Littlestown.

71 Enrolled As Seminary Opens New Term: The Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary opened its 15th year Tuesday morning with exercises in the chapel over which the new president, Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, presided. Dr. Hebert C. Alteman, retired faculty member, delivered the sermon. Seventy-one students are enrolled at the seminary.

Named Professor Emeritus: Dr. Karl J. Grimm, Baltimore street, has been named professor emeritus of German at Gettysburg college, according to a recent announcement.

Dr. Grimm will be succeeded as head of the German department by Dr. William Sundermeyer.

Before coming to Gettysburg last fall, Doctor Sundermeyer served for ten years as professor at the German institute for foreigners in Berlin.

Sites-Trout: Miss Emma C. Trout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MEMORABLE THINGS

We all feel like walking away from people who have only tales of their misfortunes to relate. But we stand around with our ears alert and our mind in tune with the happy experiences to tell us.

Memorable people, events and personal experiences stay with us. Even after our loved ones have gone from us, we have the memorable associations, the recalling of their kindnesses and fine acts to give us cheer, hope and the urge to live better lives.

How many characters in fiction, as well as in life, keep coming to us again and again, and we are inspired by the memory of what has been planned in our minds. We read Dickens and we know the characters portrayed. We listen to a great actor, and the character represented lives for us before our eyes. When I saw Joseph Jefferson in Sheridan's "Rivals" I saw Bob Acres! Edwin Booth made you feel that he was Hamlet.

Birthdays are memorable events, as are marriages. We celebrate them that we may not grow cold to their beauty and significance. Memorable poems are read over and over again. So are the great books of the world. So long as life is given to us, we return to the happy days in memory, and cherish them.

We must all become acquainted with sorrow, poverty and distressing experiences, but these gradually fade from our memory as the brighter and happier things mist them from our minds. It is well to dwell upon happy things, watering them with the years, and looking to God in thanksgiving for the endless blessings that are ours.

We are planting something in our minds every day that we live, no matter where we may be, or with whom. It is well to keep the memorable thing fresh in our consciousness, never letting a beautiful act or experience fade from our memory. The saddest event in history was the crucifixion of Christ—but the happiest was his resurrection!

PURSE PROUD

He who loves money most
Merely has wealth to boast.
Blind must he be to things
Time for his pleasure brings.

Beauty he scarcely sees.
Worshipful to him seems ease.
Counting always the cost,
Friendships are often lost.

Laughter and love of jest
Comfort the troubled breast.
Friendship makes light the care
Life asks all to bear.

Wiser and happier he
Who lives life gracefully,
Earning what he needs, and then
Shares all God meant for men.

Maj. Weaver To Serve As Executive Officer Of Lancaster District: William G. Weaver, a major in the Organized Reserves, received orders for extended active duty. Major Weaver will report to Lancaster Monday, September 16, as executive officer of the Lancaster Military District and unit instructor of the 316th Infantry.

Cann-Ziegler: Miss Jean Ziegler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ziegler, and John Prescott Cann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brand, Chambersburg, were married on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the parsonage of a Lutheran church in Winchester, Va., by the Rev. Carl Honeycutt, pastor. Raymond Snyder attended the couple as best man.

Dunkelberger-Rebert Wedding: Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Evangelical and Reformed church, Newport, Miss Elizabeth Rebert daughter of Mrs. Grace Lightner Rebert, and the late Clarence H. Rebert, Newport, became the bride of Harold Aberly Dunkelberger, Gettysburg.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. John Aberly, assisted by Dr. Roy Dunkelberger and the Rev. Walter D. Mehrling. Miss Dorothy Jean Dunkelberger was one of the bridesmaids and J. William McIlhenny attended the bridegroom as best man.

Topper-Gelwicks: At a nuptial mass celebrated Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, by the pastor, the Rev. Francis Rogers, Miss Anna Mae Gelwicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Gelwicks, Emmitsburg, became the bride of Leo Bernard Topper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Topper, also of Emmitsburg. The bridesmaids were Miss Inez Topper and Miss Euphemia Roterling. Helen Gelwicks was the maid of honor.

Post-Vacation Care

Where your car went on your vacation may determine whether or not it will elect to take a vacation of its own—a vacation that will mean a series of trips to the repair shop for you.

Most motorists know that vacation trips are usually no picnic for the car. What is only just percolating the automobilists' consciousness is the fact that understanding the type of trip the car has taken is an owner's cue to what the car needs by way of corrective service. It isn't just the actual terra firma the car has covered but the particular kind of performance it has been called upon to deliver when on the road. Typical is the tourist who invested in a carbon and valve job when he returned home. Actually the trip served to loosen up considerable carbon, and the valves were rid of their pre-trip tendency to stick. This owner should have invested in a brake job or a rechecking of the front-end alignment.

The post-vacation service should include a general tightening of body and chassis parts. Checking tappets also figures at this period because speed tends to loosen them. Check the lube level in the rear end, because if it is low the chances are that lube is working into the right rear brake.

No Bathing? Please

I didn't figure that some drivers would be trying to ford streams with their new cars, and so have failed to slip in a little note somewhere along the line to suggest avoiding this sort of thing where a car is equipped with any type of semi-automatic gear shift involving special electrical and vacuum controls. Water may short out the electrical circuits, and it may get into the vents necessary with vacuum operation.

If you have been getting your fill of static shock from plastic seat covers, don't jump to the conclusion that this sort of annoyance is inevitable with this type of covering. Newest wrinkle is make covering materials with designs that do not rub against clothing when passengers slide across the seat cushion. Herringbone has been found to be especially prone to produce static. Ribs that run from side to side, on the other hand, "go with" the clothing. Meanwhile, owners of static-producing plastic covers can lessen the trouble by using special polishes for the covers.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"If your instruction book says never to let air out of the tires when you are on the highway driving at road speed, better revise the rule in accordance with the latest ideas on the subject. Of course, what the engineers want to avoid is having you let a lot of air out of the tires because when they cool off they will be underinflated. The rule now is to check the pressure when on the road, and inflate or deflate in accordance with how near the reading comes to the recommended cold tire pressure plus 5. That is, if the manufacturer recommends 26 pounds as the cool pressure, and the reading at the moment is 33 pounds you can deflate to the tune of two pounds. For city driving the formula is the cool pressure plus three pounds.

Back In The Picture

Recently I have seen several motorists giving their cars the free rolling test. In the old days most owners took their cars to a smooth level stretch of paving and then pushed them in neutral to see if they rolled freely. Resistance to free rolling offers good grounds for suspecting that brakes are dragging or that the front wheel bearings are too tight.

In the early days they used to test the battery for an internal short by looking into each cell with a flashlight while someone operated the starter button. The idea still works. If there is a short there will be boiling of the electrolyte during the discharge.

These days I do not recommend home valve grinding as few owners have the equipment necessary for proper conditioning of such important units of the engine. But if you happen to be smitten by the "Let's do it ourselves" bug remember to lubricate the valve stems thoroughly before starting up the engine. Unless this little precaution is taken there's a good chance of a valve or two burning after the engine gets going.

X-raying A Spark Plug

Even though it looks simple and seldom costs more than a dollar a spark plug is quite a piece of engineering. Few realize that there is such a wide difference between the heat at its points and that at its exterior which may be just a couple inches away. Much of a plug's secret of success lies in the materials of its insulator which surround the center electrode all the way from the terminal at the top to within a fraction of an inch of the ground electrode. Over its lower half is the shell assembly of metal. This is the part that screws into the cylinder head and which serves to help transfer heat to the head. In addition, there are upper and lower gaskets between the shell and the insulator assemblies. These are among the things that deteriorate with mileage, which is why a plug should not be used much beyond 8,000 even if it seems to be doing a good job.

While the soft touch does it when you are seeking best results from the average car there are cases where parts need to be handled more firmly. Best evidence is the situation with some of the older catches. In babying them the driver gets all sorts of chatter and drive line shake. By letting the clutch pedal up, faster, and by feeding gas more liberally, he can start off with far greater smoothness.

I wouldn't have believed the above story had it not been for the fact that the other day when taking my car to be greased I smelled smoke in the garage. Thinking there was a short in the wiring of Kathryn's car I ran hers outside so the house wouldn't burn down if things got out of hand during my absence. But at the filling station the mystery was solved.

Better Look Around

"Hey" asked the greaser, "what's this third wire on the battery?" It was news to me. But checking I found a jumper wire attached to one of the battery posts, the other end being clipped to an insulated wire from the starter to the ignition switch. Apparently it was doing an occasional mild "short," but might easily have caused serious trouble. It had been left there by the last man who timed the motor with a timing light.

Q. What would cause a bad humming sound when the motor is pulling the car? I never hear this when I take my foot off the gas to slow down or when the car is running along at a steady pace. I am sure this is not an exhaust noise.

A. This indicates a bad adjustment between the pinion and ring gears. Heavy toe contact between the gears to be specific.

Q. The engine of my car is getting to be very slow warming up. With cooler weather ahead I am afraid this is going to develop into trouble.—Wm. L. K.

A. This may be due to the motor thermostat being frozen in the open position or to trouble with the manifold heat control valve. If the engine pops back a lot during the warm-up I would check the choke. There's a possibility that it opens up too soon.

Q. Should the clutch of my car be engaged or disengaged when cranking the motor? I know that it saves the starter-motor and battery to press the clutch pedal down, but I mean is there any advantage in leaving the clutch engaged.—L. McB.

A. You did not say what car you drive so I can't be too specific, but there have been cases where the flywheel is so light starting is more difficult when the clutch pedal is down. In other words, leaving the clutch engaged has the effect of making the flywheel heavier.

Q. I can't figure out why the engine of my car does such a swell job on hills one time and not another. There's a wide range of performance on the same hill.—R. F. S.

A. Well, how about temperature and load and traffic conditions. If an engine runs a little hot the mixture will over-vaporize and power will be lost. Slowing for traffic will also change the picture. So will an extra passenger. Be sure to check the valve tappet clearances. A valve or two that doesn't close tightly on an up-grade will kill motor power.

Q. When I hold my foot on the brake pedal it slowly goes to the floor. The brakes hold well when I have to make a quick stop and always if I pump up and down once or twice. The brake master cylinder doesn't seem to need fluid.—N. N. B.

A. The action you describe indicates air in the lines.

Q. I notice that whenever the weather is warm the clutch of my car chatters. In cooler weather everything is all right. Any reason for this?—N. K. J.

A. The answer here probably lies in the relative humidity. Usually when it's warm there is a lot of moisture in the air. Some clutch facings are too sensitive to such moisture. At such times try running a short distance (fifty yards) with the brakes lightly applied and the car in second gear. This burns the clutch a little, and often will check the chatter for a few days.

AUTOMOBILES ARE NOT NYLON STOCKINGS . . .

Rayon Can Always Be Used To Replace Stockings, But . . .

NOTHING ON EARTH CAN ALWAYS REPLACE AN AUTOMOBILE!

Since that is true, then the sensible thing to do is to do everything possible to PROTECT AND PRESERVE THE CAR YOU HAVE so that it will give you good future service. The best way to accomplish this is to have HANKEY & PLANK GARAGE check your car regularly and make all needed repairs as soon as they become evident.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MEMORABLE THINGS

We all feel like walking away from people who have only tales of their misfortunes to relate. But we stand around with our ears alert and our mind in tune of accord when with those who have memorable thoughts to express or happy experiences to tell us.

Memorable people, events, and personal experiences stay with us. Even after our loved ones have gone from us, we have the memorable associations, the recalling of their kindnesses and fine acts to give us cheer, hope and the urge to live better lives.

How many characters in fiction, as well as in life, keep coming to us again and again, and we are inspired by the memory of what has been planted in our minds. We read Dickens and we know the characters portrayed. We listen to a great actor, and the character represented lives for us before our eyes. When I saw Joseph Jefferson in Sheridan's "Rivals" I saw Bob Acres! Edwin Booth made you feel that he was Hamlet.

Birthdays are memorable events, as are marriages. We celebrate them as they may not grow cold to their beauty and significance. Memorable poems are read over and over again. So are the great books of the world. So long as life is given to us, we return to the happy days in memory, and cherish them.

We must all become acquainted with sorrow, poverty and distressing experiences, but these gradually fade from our memory as the brighter and happier things must them from our minds. It is well to dwell upon happy things, watering them with the years, and looking to God in thanksgiving for the endless blessings that are ours.

We are planting something in our minds every day that we live, no matter where we may be, or with whom. It is well to keep the memorable thing fresh in our consciousness, never letting a beautiful act or experience fade from our memory. The saddest event in history was the crucifixion of Christ—but the happiest was his resurrection!

Post-Vacation Care

Where your car went on your vacation may determine whether or not it will elect to take a vacation of its own—a vacation that will mean a series of trips to the repair shop for you.

Most motorists know that vacation trips are usually no picnic for the car. What is only just percolating the automobilists' consciousness is the fact that understanding the type of trip the car has taken is an owner's cue to what the car needs by way of corrective service. It isn't just the actual terra firma the car has covered but the particular kind of performance it has been called upon to deliver when on the road. Typical is the tourist who invested in a carbon and valve job when he returned home. Actually the trip served to loosen up considerable carbon, and the valves were rid of their pre-trip tendency to stick. This owner should have invested in a brake job or a rechecking of the front-end alignment.

The post-vacation service should include a general tightening of body and chassis parts. Checking tappets also figures at this period because speed tends to loosen them. Check the lube level in the rear end, because if it is low the chances are that lube is working into the right rear brake.

No Bathing? Please

I didn't figure that some drivers would be trying to ford streams with their new cars, and so have failed to slip in a little note somewhere along the line to suggest avoiding this sort of thing where a car is equipped with any type of semi-automatic gear shift involving special electrical and vacuum controls. Water may short out the electrical circuits, and it may get into the vents necessary with vacuum operation.

If you have been getting your fill of static shock from plastic seat covers, don't jump to the conclusion that this sort of annoyance is inevitable with this type of covering. Newest wrinkle is make covering materials with designs that do not rub against clothing when passengers slide across the seat cushion. Herringbone has been found to be especially prone to produce static. Ribs that run from side to side, on the other hand, "go with" the clothing. Meanwhile, owners of static-producing plastic covers can lessen the trouble by using special polishes for the covers.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"If your instruction book says never to let air out of the tires when you are on the highway driving at road speed, better revise the rule in accordance with the latest ideas on the subject. Of course, what the engineers want to avoid is having you let a lot of air out of the tires because when they cool off they will be underinflated. The rule now is to check the pressure when on the road, and inflate or deflate in accordance with how near the reading comes to the recommended cool tire pressure plus 5. That is, if the manufacturer recommends 28 pounds as the cool pressure, and the reading at the moment is 33 pounds you can deflate to the tune of two pounds. For city driving the formula is the cool pressure plus three pounds.

Back In The Picture

Recently I have seen several motorists giving their cars the free rolling test. In the old days most owners took their cars to a smooth level stretch of paving and then pushed them in neutral to see if they rolled freely. Resistance to free rolling offers good grounds for suspecting that brakes are dragging or that the front wheel bearings are too tight.

In the early days they used to test the battery for an internal short by looking into each cell with a flashlight while someone operated the starter button. The idea still works. If there is a short there will be boiling of the electrolyte during the discharge.

These days I do not recommend home valve grinding as few owners have the equipment necessary for proper conditioning of such important units of the engine. But if you happen to be smitten by the "Let's do it ourselves" bug remember to lubricate the valve stems thoroughly before starting up the engine. Unless this little precaution is taken there's a good chance of a valve or two burning after the engine gets going.

X-raying A Spark Plug

Even though it looks simple and seldom costs more than a dollar a spark plug is quite a piece of engineering. Few realize that there is such a wide difference between the heat at its points and that at its exterior which may be just a couple inches away. Much of a plug's secret of success lies in the materials of its insulator which surround the center electrode all the way from the terminal at the top to within a fraction of an inch of the ground electrode. Over its lower half is the shell assembly of metal. This is the part that screws into the cylinder head and which serves to help transfer heat to the head. In addition, there are upper and lower gaskets between the shell and the insulator assemblies. These are among the things that deteriorate with mileage, which is why a plug should not be used much beyond 8,000 even if it seems to be doing a good job.

While the soft touch does it when you are seeking best results from the average car there are cases where parts need to be handled more firmly. Best evidence is the situation with some of the older clutches. In babying them the driver gets all sorts of chatter and drive line shake. By letting the clutch pedal up faster, and by feeding gas more liberally, he can start off with far greater smoothness.

I wouldn't have believed the above story had it not been for the fact that the other day when taking my car to be greased I smelled smoke in the garage. Thinking there was a short in the wiring of Kathryn's car I ran hers outside so the house wouldn't burn down if things got out of hand during my absence. But at the filling station the mystery was solved.

Better Look Around

"Hey" asked the greaser, "what's this third wire on the battery?" It was news to me. But checking I found a jumper wire attached to one of the battery posts, the other end being clipped to an insulated wire from the starter to the ignition switch. Apparently it was doing an occasional mild "short," but might easily have caused serious trouble. It had been left there by the last man who timed the motor with a timing light.

Q. What would cause a bad humming sound when the motor is pulling the car? I never hear this when I take my foot off the gas to slow down or when the car is running along at a steady pace. I am sure this is not an exhaust noise.

—N. T. K.

A. This indicates a bad adjustment between the pinion and ring gears. Heavy toe contact between the gears, to be specific.

Q. The engine of my car is getting to be very slow warming up. With cooler weather ahead I am afraid this is going to develop into trouble—Wm L. K.

A. This may be due to the motor thermostat being frozen in the open position or to trouble with the manifold heat control valve. If the engine pops back a lot during the warm-up I would check the choke. There's a possibility that it opens up too soon.

Q. Should the clutch of my car be engaged or disengaged when cranking the motor? I know that it saves the starter-motor and battery to press the clutch pedal down, but I mean is there any advantage in leaving the clutch engaged—L. McE.

A. You did not say what car you drive so I can't be too specific, but there have been cases where the flywheel is so light starting is more difficult when the clutch pedal is down. In other words, leaving the clutch engaged has the effect of making the flywheel heavier.

Q. I can't figure out why the engine of my car does such a swell job on hills one time and not another. There's a wide range of performance on the same hill—R. F. S.

A. Well, how about temperature and load and traffic conditions. If an engine runs a little hot the mixture will over-vaporize and power will be lost. Slowing for traffic will also change the picture. So will an extra passenger. Be sure to check the valve tappet clearances. A valve or two that doesn't close tightly on an up-grade will kill motor power.

Q. When I hold my foot on the brake pedal it slowly goes to the floor. The brakes hold well when I have to make a quick stop and always if I pump up and down once or twice. The brake master cylinder doesn't seem to need fluid—N. N. E.

A. The action you describe indicates air in the lines.

Q. I notice that whenever the weather is warm the clutch of my car chatters. In cooler weather everything is all right. Any reason for this?—N. K. J.

A. The answer here probably lies in the relative humidity. Usually when it's warm there is a lot of moisture in the air. Some clutch facings are too sensitive to such moisture. At such times try running a short distance (fifty yards) with the brakes lightly applied and the car in second gear. This burns the clutch a little, and often will check the chatter for a few days.

New York, Sept. 16 (AP) — Television's football season gets under way this week-end with two professional games on the list of ABC-TV which will use Red Grange and Joe Hasiel for the announcing. They are (time daylight):

Tonight—9 from Philadelphia, Cleveland Browns vs. Eagles.
Sunday—1:55 p.m. from Pittsburgh, New York Giants vs. Steelers.

Under the arrangement with the National Professional Football league, ABC-TV will carry 15 games during the season to non-league cities outside of a 75-mile radius and to some league cities where the home team is away.

Also in television, the second of the weekly comedy hours introduced last week by Eddie Cantor will come on NBC-TV at 8 p.m. daylight Sunday with Martin and Lewis as the stars. Next week it will be Fred Allen in the rotating schedule.

On Saturday night list: NBC—

7:30 Joe DiMaggio Show; 8 Voices and Events; 9 Hit Parade; 9:30 Texas Rangers; 10 Basin Street, Dr. Black.
CBS—7 Winner Take All; 8 Gene Autry Show; 8:30 The Lineup; 9:30 My Favorite Husband; 10 Sing It Again.
ABC—7:30 Buzz Aldrin Playroom; 10 Saturday in Houston; 10:30 Dixieland Jambake.
MBS—8 Twenty Questions, Gov. Dever of Mass.; 8:30 Take a Number; 9 Hawaii Calls, New Time; 10 Chicago Theater Concert.

Sunday: NBC—2:30 NBC Theater; 3:30 Quiz Kids; 4:30 High Adventure; 5:30 James Melton Finale; 6:30 Tex Williams Show; 7:30 The Saint; 8 Theater Guild "The Barker"; 10 Jack Paar $64 Question.

CBS—2 Invitation to Music; 5 Music for You; 6 Rate Your Mate; 7 Jack Benny; 7:30 Hit the Jackpot; 8:30 Dave Rose Show; 9:30 Held Talent Quarter Finals.

ABC—12:30 Piano Playhouse; 2:30 Mr. President; 5:30 (TV at 7 Daylight) Think Fast Quiz; 7 Daylight 8 Standard Hollywood Byline New Time; 8 Daylight 7 Standard Stop the Music; 9:30 Ted Malone;

TEST YOUR SKILL!
How Many Springs Are There in This 3-pc. Suite?

HERE'S HOW YOU DO IT
Scattered through the three pieces of living room furniture shown in the illustration are hundreds of springs. Count all the springs in this suite of furniture (all 3 pieces). The number you write will be your entry... either bring it into the store or mail the coupon below to Contest Manager. It costs you nothing to enter and it's lots of fun!

RULES OF THIS CONTEST:
1. This contest is open to everyone except employees of this store or their families.
2. Count only the springs in the furniture illustration and bring your count to this store or mail the coupon to Contest Manager.
3. Answers, if mailed, must be awarded to a family later than midnight, Month and Day.
4. Only one prize will be awarded to each family.
5. The judges of this contest, in making their awards will consider neatness, legibility, and promptness in addition to correctness.
6. Count must be within 30 of correct answer to be eligible for an award.
7. Three impartial judges will make all awards. They are Mr. _____ and _____ and _____.
8. We reserve the right to award additional prizes for originality and interest. In case of a tie, duplicate prizes will be awarded after the first three prizes.
9. If your copy of this contest is not clear, additional copies may be secured at this store.

COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER... LOTS OF FUN!

The coupon at the right is your entry blank. Fill in the number of springs found in all three pieces of furniture above, with your name clearly signed or printed. Mail to Contest Manager. Contest ends Midnight, Month and Day.

IF YOU CAN'T COME IN MAIL THIS COUPON

The number at the right is my answer in my contest. I accept the decision of the judges at final.
